

Write about these people's misfortunes using the Causative form.

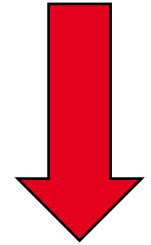

Ted's car was damaged.

To have sth done (V<sub>3</sub>)

Past Simple

had damaged

Ted

had

his car

damaged.

Tom's car was stolen.

To have sth done (V<sub>3</sub>)

Past Simple

had stolen

Tom

had

his car

stolen.

Terry's leg was broken.

To have sth done (V<sub>3</sub>)

Past Simple

had broken

Terry

had

his leg

broken.

Rick's house was broken into by a burglar.

Rick

had

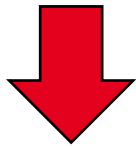

his house

broken

into by a burglar.

To have sth done (V<sub>3</sub>)

Past Simple

had

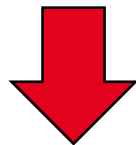

broken

Gary's windows were smashed by hooligans.

To have sth done (V<sub>3</sub>)

Past Simple

had

smashed

Gary

had

his windows

smashed

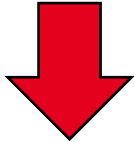

by hooligans.

The police have taken away Todd's driving licence.

To have sth done (V<sub>3</sub>)

Present
Perfect

has had

taken away

Todd

has had

his driving licence

taken away

by the police.

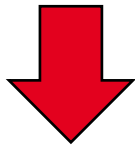

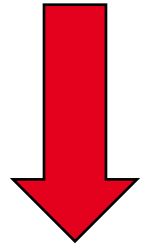

Mary is going to ask a carpenter to put the doors up.

To have sth done (V<sub>3</sub>)

is going to

is going to have

put up

Mary

is going to have

the doors

put up.

You should ask a plumber to unblock the toilet.

To have sth done (V<sub>3</sub>)

modal + have

should have

unblocked

You

should have

the toilet

unblocked.

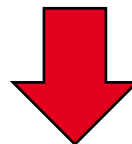

Tommy asks his brother to do his homework.

To have sth done (V<sub>3</sub>)

Present
Simple

has done

Tommy

has

his homework

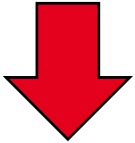

done

by his brother.

They will ask a chef to cook the meal.

To have sth done (V<sub>3</sub>)

Future Simple

will have

cooked

They

will have

the meal

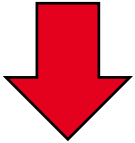

cooked

by a chef.

The report is being typed by his secretary.

To have sth done (V<sub>3</sub>)

Present
Continuous

is having

typed

He

is having

the report

typed

by his secretary.

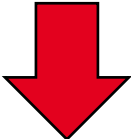

Bruce may ask a builder to repair his roof.

To have sth done (V<sub>3</sub>)

modal + have

may have

repaired

Bruce

may have

his roof

repaired.