

INTENTION DECIDED AT THE
TIME OF SPEAKING

We often use will in these situations:
Offering to do something That bag looks heavy. I'll help you with it. (not I help)
Agreeing to do something A: Can you give Tim this book? B: Sure, I'll give it to him when I see him this afternoon.
Promising to do something Thanks for lending me the money. I'll pay you back on Friday. I won't tell anyone what happened. I promise.
Asking somebody to do something (Will you ?) Will you please turn the music down? I'm trying to concentrate.
You can use won't to say that somebody refuses to do something: I've tried to give her advice, but she won't listen. The car won't start. (= the car 'refuses' to start)	1)

TO BE GOING TO

I am doing and	I am going to do
Mouse Lam de	ina largeant cont

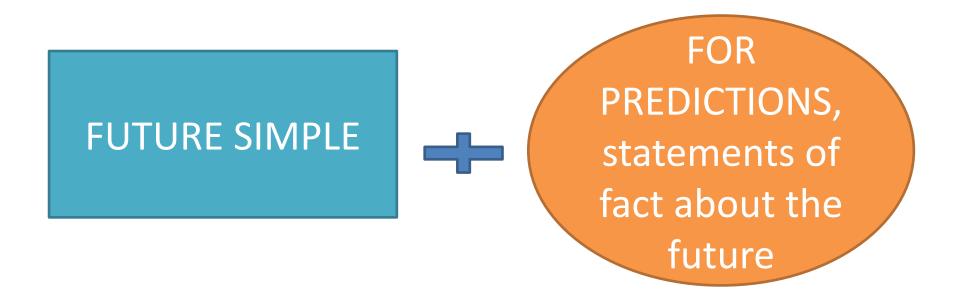

We use I am doing (present continuous) when we say what we have arranged to do – for example, arranged to meet somebody, arranged to go somewhere:

- What time are you meeting Ann this evening?
- I'm leaving tomorrow. I've got my plane ticket.

I am going to do something = I've decided to do it (but perhaps not arranged to do it):

- 'Your shoes are dirty.' 'Yes, I know. I'm going to clean them.' (= I've decided to clean them, but I haven't arranged to clean them)
- I've decided not to stay here any longer. Tomorrow I'm going to look for somewhere else to stay.

Often the difference is very small and either form is possible.

We often use will ('l	l) with:
probably		I'll probably be home late tonight.
(I'm) sure		Don't worry about the exam. I'm sure you'll pass.
(I) think		Do you think Sarah will like the present we bought her?
(I) don't think	0	I don't think the exam will be very difficult.
l wonder	\bigcirc	I wonder what will happen.

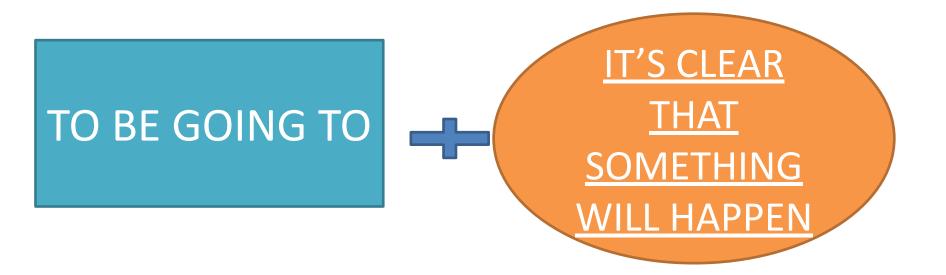

The future simple is used:

 for predictions based on what we think, believe or imagine.
 In the year 2050, people will drive flying cars.

 actions which we cannot control but which will definitely happen.

The behy will be born

The baby will be born in the new year.

You can also say that 'something is going to happen' in the future. For example:

The man isn't looking where he is going.

He is going to walk into the wall.

When we say that 'something is going to happen', the situation now makes this clear. The man is walking towards the wall now, so we can see that he is going to walk into it.

going to

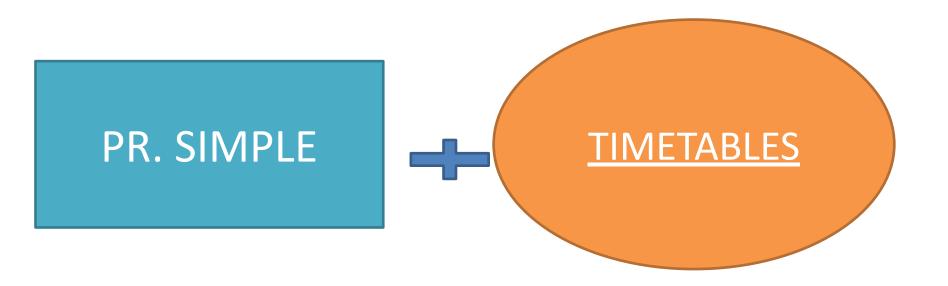

situation now

future happening

Some more examples:

- Look at those black clouds! It's going to rain. (the clouds are there now)
- ☐ I feel terrible. I think I'm going to be sick. (I feel terrible now)
- The economic situation is bad now and things are going to get worse.

Present simple (I do) with a future meaning
We use the present simple when we talk about timetables, programmes etc. (for public transport, cinemas etc.): My train leaves at 11.30, so I need to be at the station by 11.15. What time does the film start this evening? It's Wednesday tomorrow. / Tomorrow is Wednesday.
You can use the present simple to talk about people if their plans are fixed like a timetable: I start my new job on Monday. What time do you finish work tomorrow?
But the continuous is more usual for personal arrangements:
Compare:
Present continuous What time are you arriving? I'm going to the cinema this evening.	Present simple What time does the train arrive? The film starts at 8.15 (this evening).

Compare:

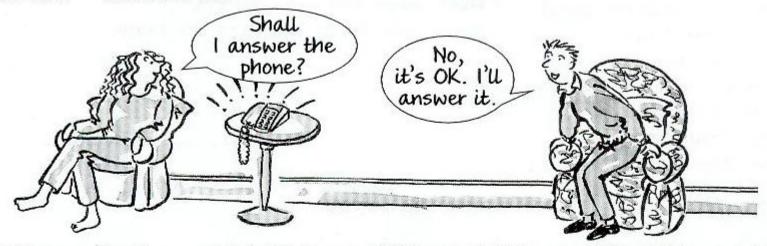

present continuous – usually for people

- I'm going to a concert tomorrow.
- What time are you leaving?

present simple – timetables, programmes etc.

- The concert starts at 7.30.
- What time does your train leave?

Shall I ...? Shall we ...?

Shall I/we ... ? = Do you think this is a good thing to do? Do you think this is a good idea?

- It's very warm in this room. Shall I open the window?
- 'Shall I phone you this evening?' 'Yes, please.'
- I'm going to a party tonight. What shall I wear?
- It's a nice day. Shall we go for a walk?
- Where shall we go for our holidays this year?
- 'Let's go out this evening.' 'OK, what time shall we meet?'
