

You knock at your grandparents' door.
The door opens.

You are in the hall. You listen.
Nothing.

Grandma and grandpa are not there.
You open the next door.

You are in the kitchen now.
You look around.

But grandma and grandpa are not there.
You open the next door.

You are in the dining room now.
The plates are on the table.

But grandma and grandpa are not there.
You open the next door.

You are in the bedroom now.
Grandpa's glasses are on the table.

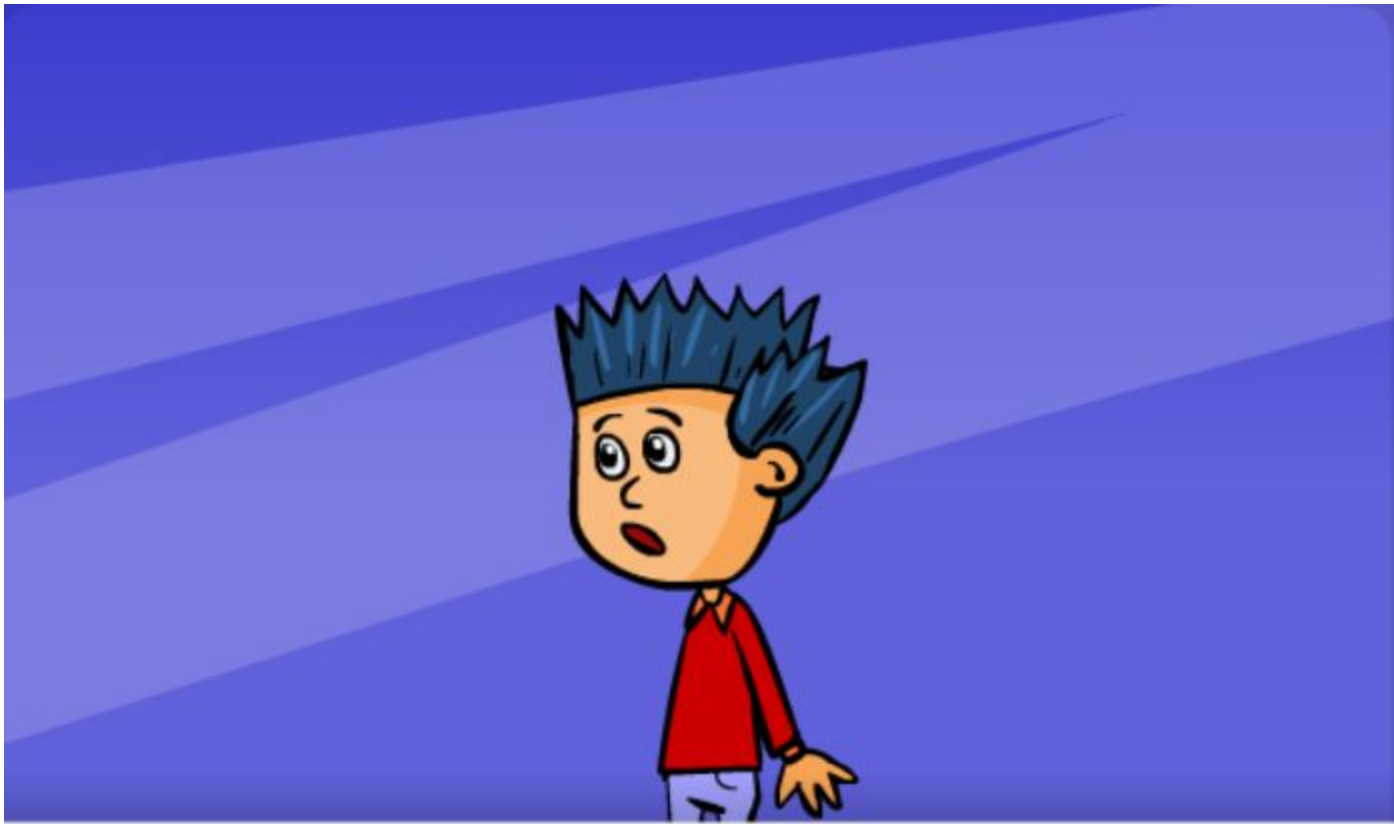

But grandma and grandpa are not there.
You open the next door.

You are in the living room now.
There is somebody behind the curtains!

You are scared!
Is it a ghost? Is it a monster?

Welcome to our house, Tommy!

Wow! This is not a ghost!
This is not a monster!

It's you, grandma! It's you, grandpa!

Let's play hide-and-see again, Tommy!
