What is listening?

- Listening and questioning are an inherent part of most life skills, fundamental to human interaction, and a major factor in the success of a good communicator.

Why is listening so important?

- Good listening allows us to demonstrate that we are paying attention to the thoughts, feelings and behaviours of the other person (seeing the world through their eyes). This is crucial to maintaining productive relationships, and sometimes the only way to establish communication.

Good listener benefits:

- Practical: When you listen to instructions, you pay attention to them with the intention of understanding them. This allows you
 - to do well on tests,
 - stay out of trouble,
 - keep a job,
 - do what you are supposed to do among other things.

Good listener benefits:

- the quality of your social life.

Being a good listener fosters meaningful relationships with those around you.

Good listener benefits:

- personal development

- We expose ourselves to other thoughts, ideas, opinions, values, experiences and perspectives. We do this by opening our ears and minds to them. We do this by listening.

What or whom do you usually listen to attentively?

- Teacher's instructions and explanations;
- Your parents' advice and regulations;
- Your friend's stories;
- Political leaders' speeches;
- Music
- Actors
- Your variant
