The Worst Places for Women

SIERRA LEONE: This is the worst place to be a woman, according to the Human Development Report. 76 percent of women are illiterate, and one in eight die during pregnancy or childbirth. Life expectancy is only 43.

In Afghanistan

A woman dies during childbirth every 30 minutes, the highest maternal mortality rate in the world. Domestic violence is very common; 87 percent of Afghan women have been attacked by a family member. But more than one million widows are on the streets, often forced into prostitution. Afghanistan is the only country in which the female suicide rate is higher than that of males .

In Nepal

The female illiteracy rate is at 65 percent; if girls aren't married in their adolescence, there's a good chance they'll be sold by their families to sex traffickers.

In Yemen

- Women belong to men.
- Most are illiterate.
- They can't travel alone.
- They are arrested in the street.
- They die in pregnancy and childbirth.
- They suffer from unjust polygamy.
- Because of poverty they resort to short term marriage with tourists from other Arab countries.

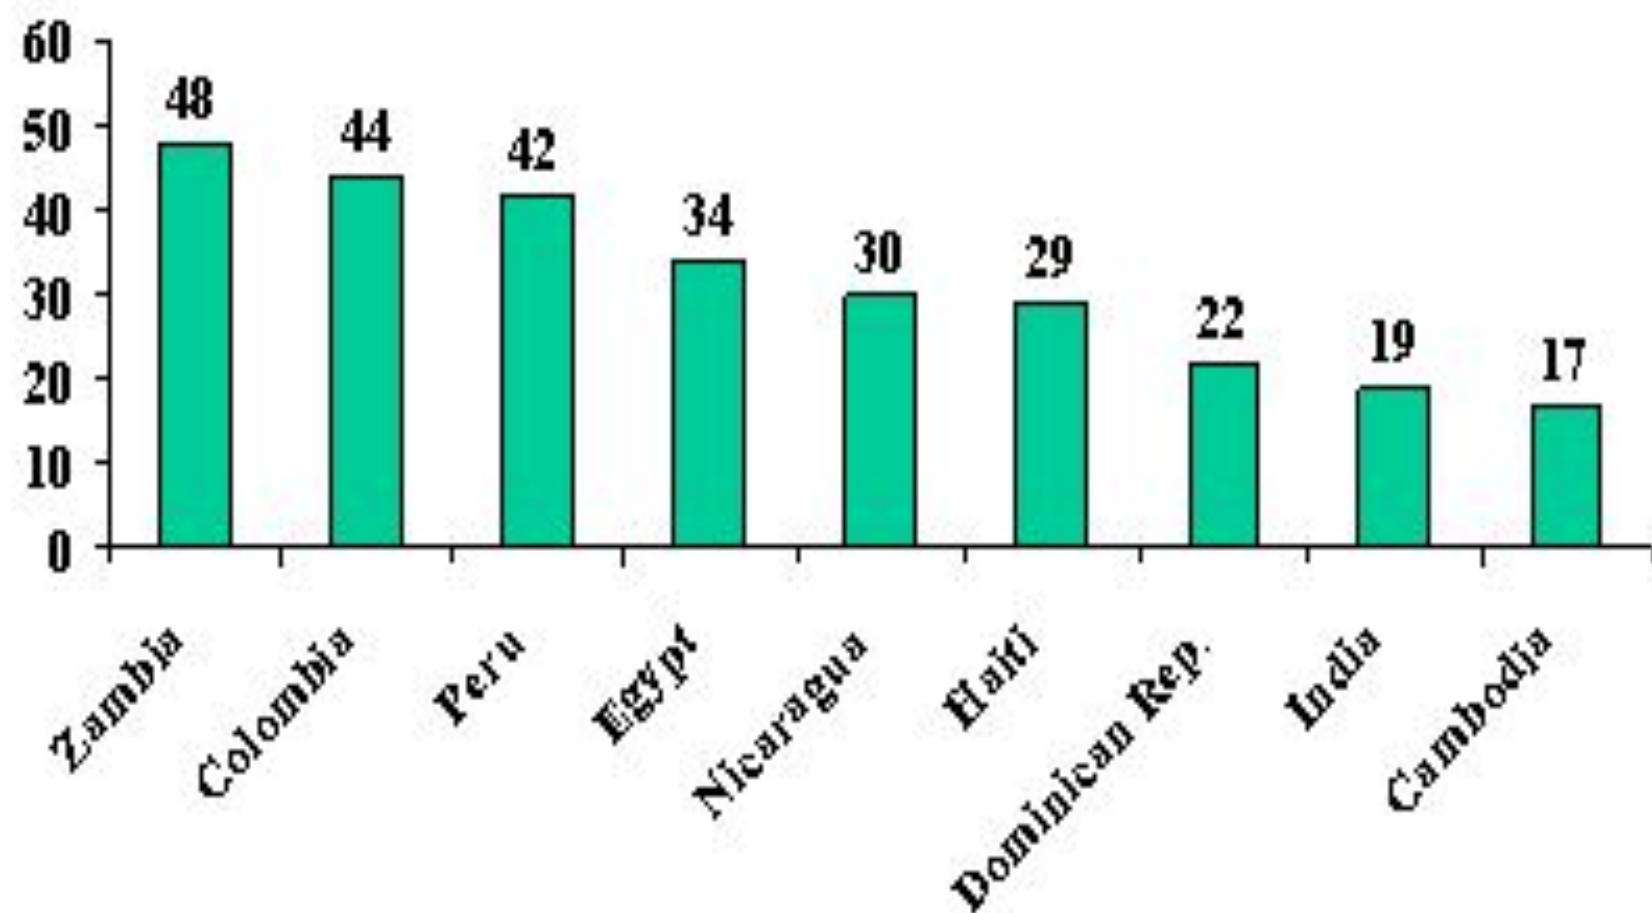

A worldwide phenomenon

What about Morocco? A bad or a good place for a woman?

case study:

My situation has changed thanks to the TeleFood Fund. I started off with six young rabbits and now I have about 16 but I also sold about 11 rabbits to earn some extra income. The TeleFood project also allowed me to buy the hutches, concentrated food, medicine and vaccines.

On Thursdays I go to the souk. Today I sold two rabbits. I got 110 Dirhams for them (13.50 US dollars), which is not too bad since I sold them as soon as I arrived at the market .

« I am woman » By Helen Reddy
