

Burmistr

Story of violence and injustice
By Ivan Sergeevich Turgenev

A black silhouette of a man in a long, heavy coat and a hat, standing on a patch of grass. The man is facing right. The text is overlaid on the lower part of the silhouette.

Burmistr - historically - manage the land estate
or the elder,

..... And I even knowing all my dislike for him and bias to his actions .I couldn't imagine that....

....This anger with the hypocrisy , bragging, it all make it soo obvious, that he's just a bastard with fine tastes

..... Although in reality he was just stupid , easily influenced and feels his absolute power over the lives of others....

there are no good characters in this story .

No beautiful scenery.

But there is a dirty puddle and the knees of the petitioners.

Cruelty and violence.

Illustrations by Marta Belchikova

Text by Marta Belchikova