

First human in space.

Yura Gagarin.

A portrait of Yuri Gagarin, the first human to travel into space, wearing a dark red military uniform with epaulettes and pilot wings. The image is slightly faded and serves as a background for the text.

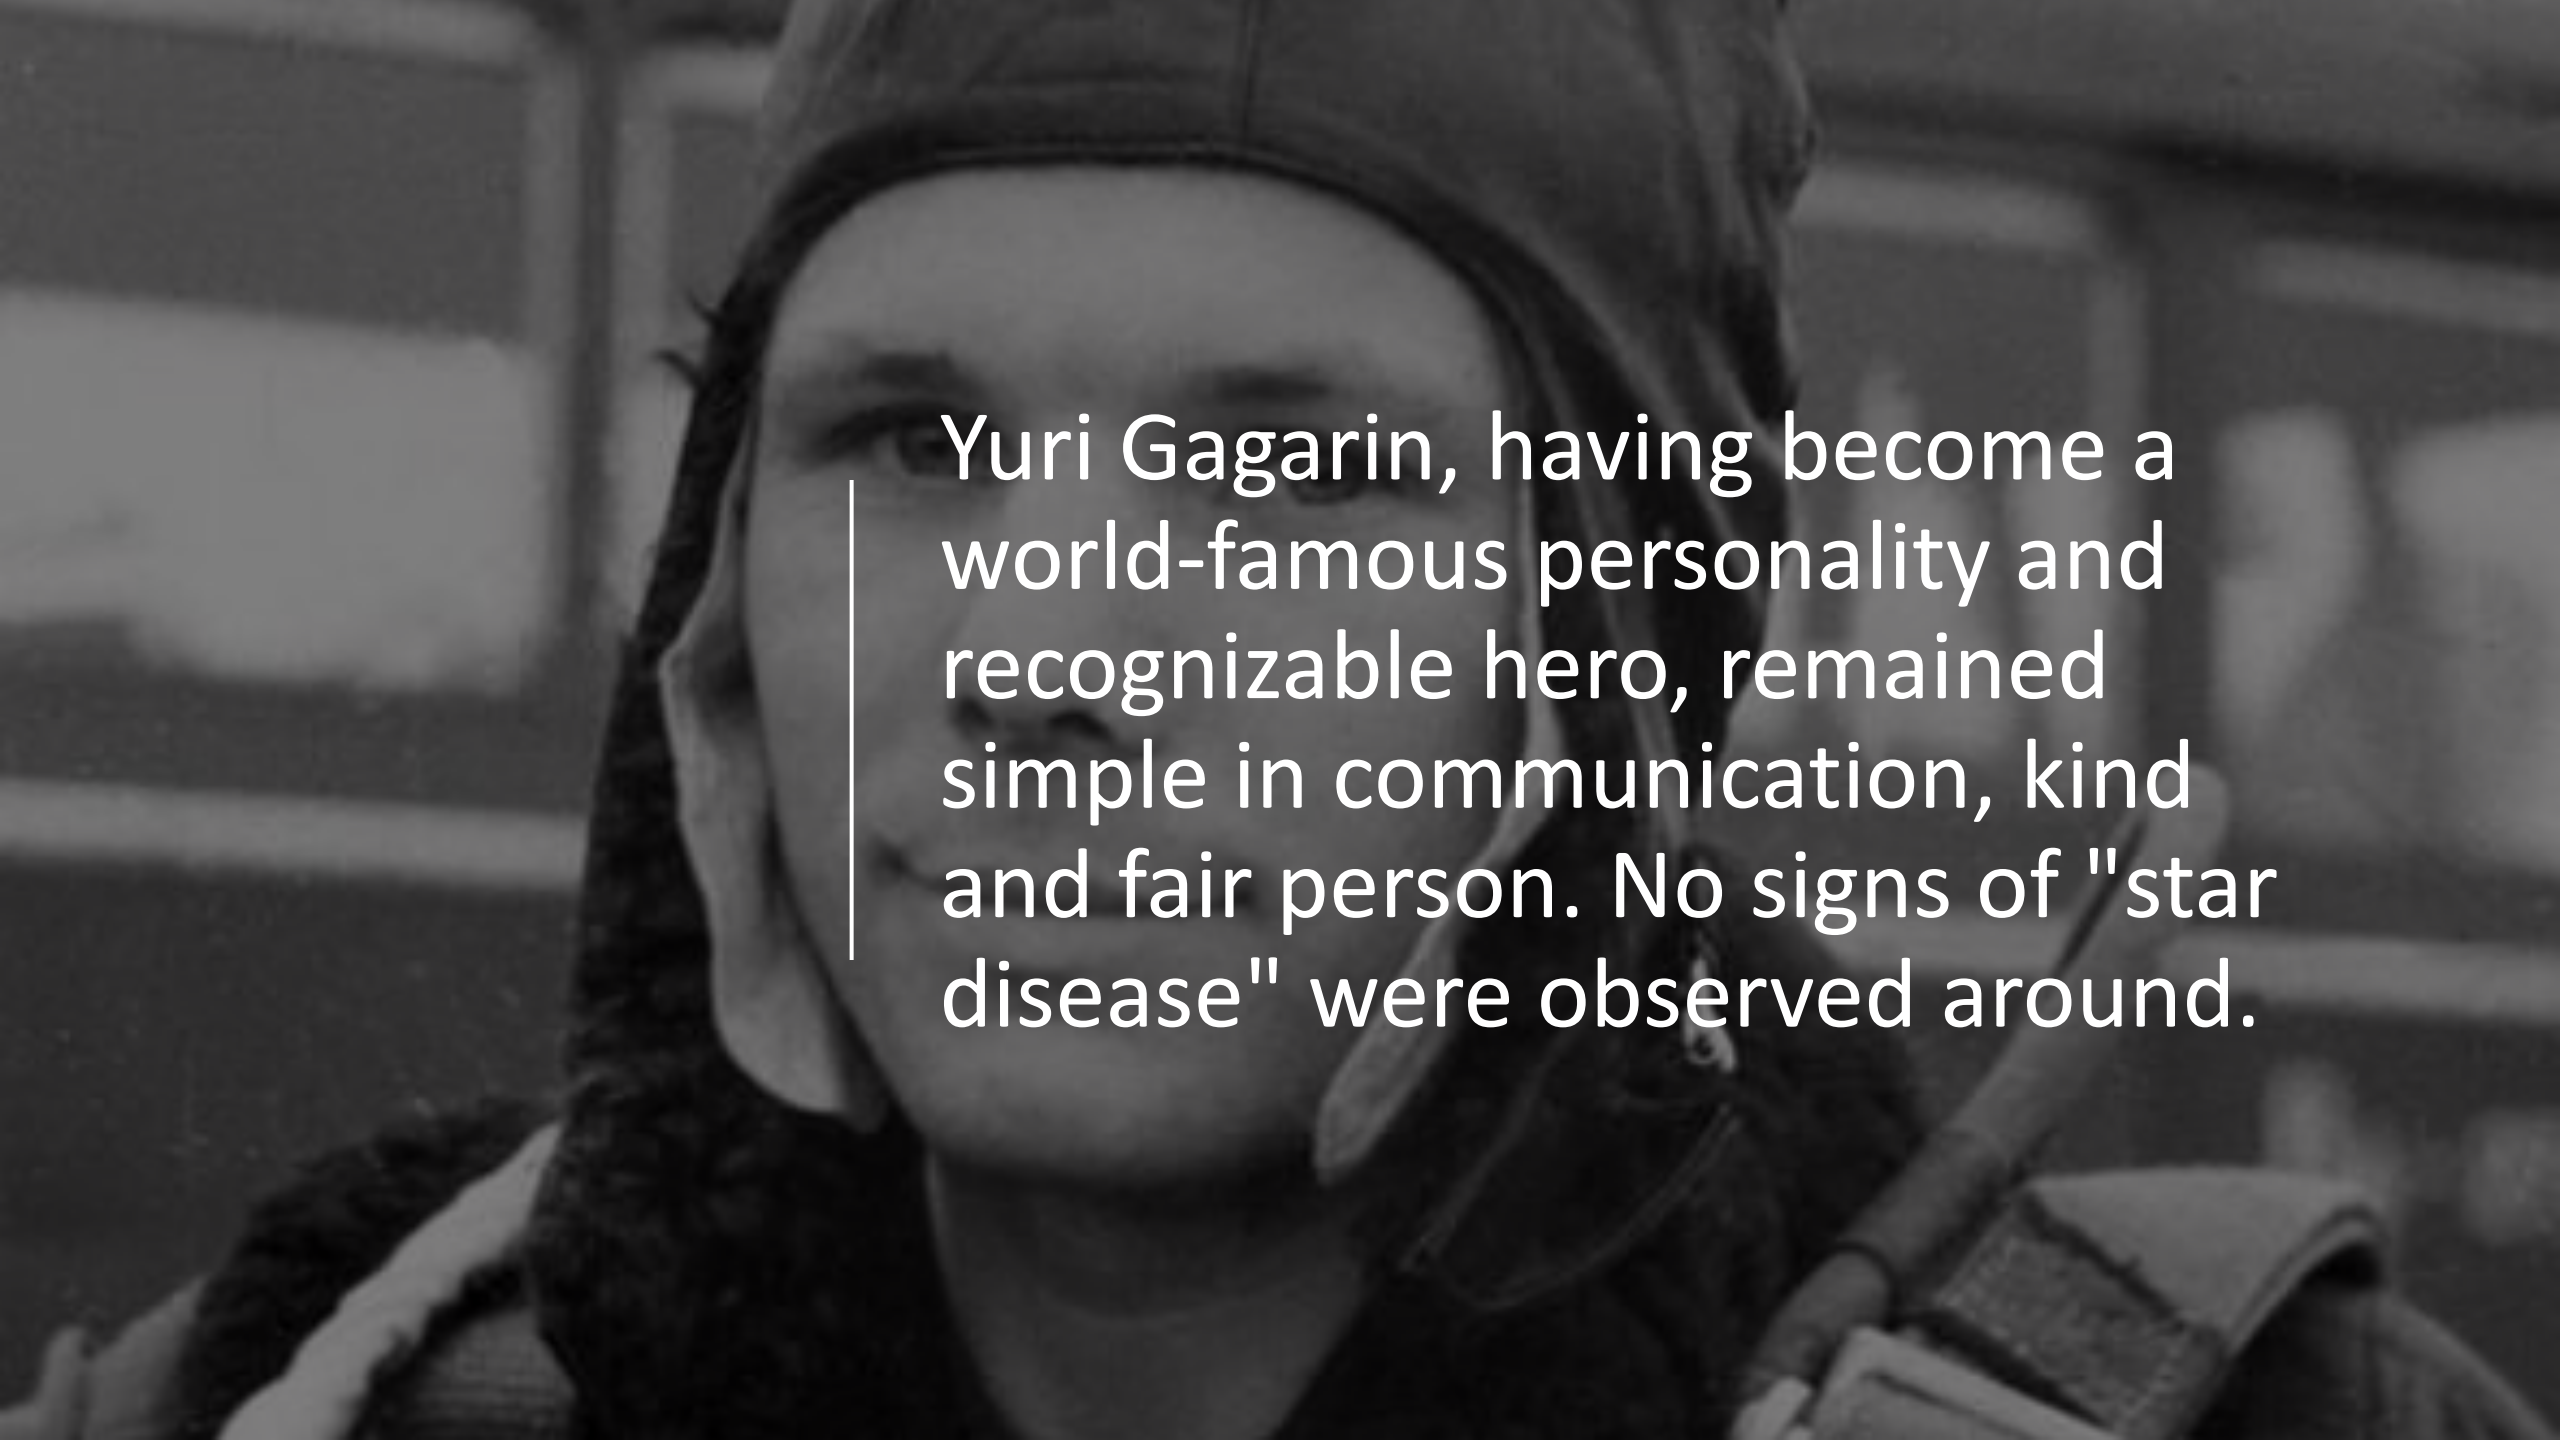

Before the first flight into space, pilots from the cosmonaut squadron voted to choose the most worthy candidate. The winner was Yuri Gagarin.

A black and white photograph of a group of people, including a man in a military uniform and a woman in a patterned dress, with text overlaid.

The first cosmonaut was of peasant origin: his father, Alexey Ivanovich Gagarin, worked as a carpenter, and his mother, Anna Timofeevna Matveeva, worked on a dairy farm.

Yuri's favorite movies were those in which the characters showed heroism, and his favorite word, most often used by him, was: "work»

A black and white photograph of Yuri Gagarin, the first man in space. He is wearing a flight suit and a helmet, looking directly at the camera with a slight smile. The background is blurred, showing what appears to be an airport tarmac with other aircraft.

Yuri Gagarin, having become a world-famous personality and recognizable hero, remained simple in communication, kind and fair person. No signs of "star disease" were observed around.