The World Cup

The World Cup is when football teams from countries all over the world come together to play.

It happens every four years and this year it will be held in Russia.

At the World Cup

The countries are put into groups and play matches.

The team that wins the most matches gets the World Cup.

This means they are the best football team in the world.

Who Has Won the World Cup?

Brazil has won the World Cup the most times.

England won it once in 1966.

Scotland, Northern Ireland and Wales have never won the World Cup.

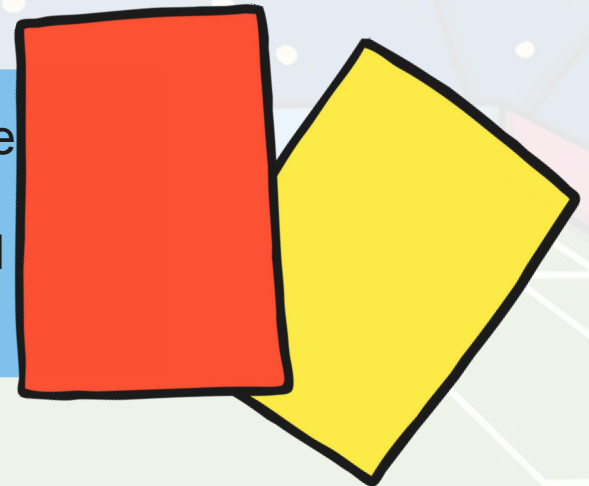

Fair Play

Have a go!

Before a World Cup match starts, the players all shake hands with each other.

There is a special award given at the end of the World Cup called the Fair Play Trophy. This is given to the team who had the least yellow and red cards during The World Cup.
