

PRESENT TENSES.
FUTURE SIMPLE & to be going to

Present Forms

Present Simple

We use the present simple:

- a) for permanent states, repeated actions and daily routines.

*He works in a bank.
(permanent state)*

*He takes the train to work every morning.
(daily routine/repeated actions)*

- b) for general truths and laws of nature.

The sun sets in the west.

- c) for timetables (planes, trains, etc.) and programmes.

The plane from Brussels arrives at 8:30.

- d) for sports commentaries, reviews and narration.

a) Peterson overtakes Williams and wins the race. (sports commentary)

b) Mike Dalton plays the part of Macbeth. (review)

c) Then the prince gets on his horse and quickly rides away. (narration)

- e) to give instructions or directions (instead of the imperative).

You sprinkle some cheese on the pizza and then you bake it. (Instead of: Sprinkle some cheese on the pizza ...)

The present simple is used with the following time expressions: usually, often, always, etc., every day/ week/month/year, in the morning/afternoon/ evening, at night, at the weekend, on Mondays, etc.

Present Continuous

We use the present continuous:

- a) for actions taking place now, at the moment of speaking.

He is giving the baby a bath at the moment.

- b) for temporary actions; that is actions that are going on around now, but not at the actual moment of speaking.

I'm looking for a new job these days.

(He is not looking for a job at the moment of speaking.)

- c) with adverbs such as: always, constantly, continually, etc. for actions which happen very often, usually to express annoyance, irritation or anger.

a) I'm always meeting Sara when I go shopping.

(action which happens very often)

b) You're constantly interrupting me when I'm talking. (expressing annoyance/irritation)

- d) for actions that we have already arranged to do in the near future, especially when the time and place have been decided.

They're moving into their new house next week. (The time has been decided.)

- e) for changing or developing situations.

More and more species are becoming extinct.

The present continuous is used with the following time expressions: now, at the moment, at present, these days, still, nowadays, today, tonight, etc.

Present Perfect

We use the present perfect:

- a) for an action which started in the past and continues up to the present, especially with state verbs such as be, have, like, know, etc. In this case, we often use for and since.

Rachel has had the dog for three years. (She got the dog three years ago and she still has it.)

- b) for an action which has recently finished and whose result is visible in the present.

She has just washed her hair. (She has now wrapped her hair in a towel, so the action has finished.)

- c) for an action which happened at an unstated time in the past. The exact time is not mentioned because it is either unknown or unimportant. The emphasis is placed on the action.

The Taylors have bought a sailing boat. (The exact time is unknown or unimportant. What is important is the fact that they now own a sailing boat.)

- d) for an action which has happened within a specific time period which is not over at the moment of speaking. We often use words and expressions such as today, this morning/evening/week/month, etc.

She has taken fifteen pictures today. (The time period - today - is not over yet. She may take more pictures.)

BUT: She took twenty pictures yesterday. (The time period - yesterday - is over.)

Note: We use the present perfect to announce a piece of news and the past simple or past continuous to give more details about it.

The police have finally arrested Peter Duncan. He was trying to leave the country when they caught him.

The present perfect is used with the following time expressions: for, since, already, yet, always, just, ever, never, so far, today, this week/month, etc., how long, lately, recently, still (in negations), etc.

Present Perfect Continuous

We use the present perfect continuous:

- a) to put emphasis on the duration of an action which started in the past and continues up to the present, especially with time expressions such as for, since, all morning/day/year, etc.

Sam has been talking on the phone for half an hour. (He began talking on the phone half an hour ago and he is still talking.)

- b) for an action which started in the past and lasted for some time. The action may have finished or may still be going on. The result of the action is visible in the present.

Her feet hurt. She has been walking all morning. (The result of the action is visible in the present - her feet hurt.)

- c) to express anger, irritation or annoyance.

Somebody has been giving away our plans.

(The speaker is irritated.)

Note: With the verbs live, work, teach and feel (= have a particular emotion) we can use the present perfect or present perfect continuous with no difference in meaning.

We have lived/have been living here for twenty years.

The present perfect continuous is used with the following time expressions: for, since, how long, lately, recently.

Note: We use the present perfect to put emphasis on number and the present perfect continuous to put emphasis on duration.

Compare the examples:

e.g. I've typed four reports so far.

I've been typing reports all morning.

Adverbs of Frequency

- ◆ Adverbs of frequency (always, usually, often, sometimes, seldom/rarely, never, etc.) come before the main verb (read, work, etc.) but after the verb to be, auxiliary verbs (do, have, etc.) or modal verbs (can, should, etc.). Adverbs of frequency go before the auxiliary verbs in short answers.

e.g. Susan often goes skiing at the weekend.

Kim is sometimes rude to other people.

You can always call me if you need help.

'Do you help your mother with the housework?'

'Yes, I usually do.'

- ◆ Expressions such as every day, once/twice a week/month, etc., most mornings/evenings, etc. go at the beginning or the end of a sentence. Usually, often, sometimes, normally and occasionally can go at the beginning or the end of a sentence for more emphasis.

e.g. We go on holiday twice a year.

Usually, I finish work at five.*

I feel bored sometimes.

- ◆ The adverbs never, seldom and rarely have a negative meaning and are never used with the word not.

e.g. I rarely go to bed late. (NOT: ~~I rarely don't go~~ ...)

State Verbs

State Verbs are verbs which describe a state rather than an action and therefore do not normally have continuous tenses. These include:

- a) verbs which express likes and dislikes: like, love, dislike, hate, enjoy, prefer, adore, etc. e.g. I love chocolate ice cream.
- b) verbs of the senses: see, hear, smell, taste, feel, look, sound. We often use can or could with these verbs when we refer to what we see, hear, etc. at the moment of speaking. e.g. Jim must be at home. I can see his car parked outside.
- c) verbs of perception: know, believe, understand, realise, remember, forget, notice, recognise, think, seem, see (=understand), expect (=think), etc. e.g. I expect they will be late.
- d) some other verbs such as be, contain, include, belong, fit, need, matter, cost, mean, own, want, owe, have (=possess), require, weigh, wish, keep (=continue), etc. e.g. My uncle owns a hotel.

Some of the above verbs are used in continuous tenses when they describe actions and not states. Study the following examples:

- 1 I think he's lying. (= believe)
I'm thinking about the plan. (= am considering)
- 2 The food tastes delicious. (= has a delicious flavour)
He is tasting the food. (= is testing the flavour of)
- 3 I can see some people. (= perceive with my eyes)
I see what you mean. (= understand)
I'm seeing my doctor tomorrow. (= am meeting)
- 4 It looks as if they've finished the job. (= appears)
Mike is looking out of the window. (is directing his eyes.)

- 5 This perfume smells nice. (= has a nice smell)
He is smelling the milk. (= is sniffing)
- 6 The baby's hair feels like silk. (= has the texture of)
She is feeling the baby's forehead. (= is touching)
- 7 Bob has a Porsche. (= possesses)
He's having a shower at the moment. (= is taking a shower)
- 8 The chicken weighs 2 kilos. (= has a weight of)
The butcher is weighing the meat. (= is measuring how heavy it is)
- 9 This dress fits you perfectly. (= it is the right size)
We are fitting new locks. (= are putting in)
- 10 He appears to be nervous. (= seems)
He is appearing in a new play. (= is taking part)
- 11 He is a rude person. (= character - permanent state)
He is being rude. (= behaviour - temporary situation, usually with adjectives such as careful, silly, (im)polite, lazy, etc.)

Note: a) The verb enjoy can be used in continuous tenses to express specific preference.
e.g. I'm enjoying this party a lot. (specific preference)

BUT: I enjoy going to parties. (I enjoy parties in general.)

- b) The verbs look (when we refer to a person's appearance), feel (= experience a particular emotion), hurt and ache can be used in either the continuous or simple tenses with no difference in meaning.
e.g. You look/are looking great today.

Future Forms

Future Simple

We use the future simple:

- a) in predictions about the future usually with the verbs think, believe, expect, etc., the expressions be sure, be afraid, etc., and the adverbs probably, perhaps, certainly, etc.

- b) for on-the-spot decisions.

- c) for promises (usually with the verbs promise, swear, guarantee, etc.), threats, warnings, requests, hopes (usually with the verb hope) and offers.

- d) for actions/events/situations which will definitely happen in the future and which we cannot control.

The temperature will reach 40°C tomorrow.

The future simple and be going to are used with the following time expressions: tomorrow, the day after tomorrow, tonight, soon, next week/month/year, in a week/month/year, in two/three days/weeks, etc.

Be going to

We use be going to:

- a) for plans, intentions or ambitions we have for the future.

*I'm going to become a famous violinist one day.
(ambition)*

Now that they've won the lottery, they are going to buy a big house. (intention/plan)

- b) for actions we have already decided to do in the near future.

*They are going to get married in three months.
(They have already decided to do it.)*

BUT: *They're getting married next month.
(They have decided and arranged to do it.)*

- c) in predictions when there is evidence that something will happen in the near future.

Look at the clouds! It's going to rain.

Note: 1) We normally use be going to to talk about something we intend to do and will to give details or make comments.

e.g. A: I'm going to have a party next week. I'll invite all my friends.

B: That'll be great.

2) We normally use the present continuous rather than be going to with verbs which express movement, especially the verbs go and come.

e.g. Sam is going to the market in a few minutes.

Sheila is coming to my house for tea this afternoon.

Future Simple versus Be going to

We use the future simple:

- when we make a prediction based on what we think, believe or imagine.

In the year 2020 people will drive electric cars.

- for on-the-spot decisions.

*I like this one better than the other.
I'll take it.*

We use be going to:

- when we make a prediction based on what we can see (evidence) or what we know.

She is going to cut the sunflowers.

- for actions we have already decided to do in the future.

Do you like this blouse?

Yes. Why?

I'm going to give it to my daughter as a gift.

Present Simple

We use the present simple for future actions when we refer to programmes, timetables, etc.

e.g. The bus arrives in Liverpool at 7:30.

Present Continuous

We use the present continuous for actions we have decided and arranged to do in the near future.

e.g. I'm flying to Lisbon tomorrow morning.

- ◆ We use the present simple or present perfect, and not future forms, after words and expressions such as while, before, after, until/till, as, unless, when, whenever, if, suppose/supposing, once, as soon as, as long as, by the time, in case, on condition that, etc.
e.g. Call me as soon as you get back.

(NOT: ...~~as soon as you will get back.~~)

- ◆ We use future forms:

a) with when when it is used as a question word.
When it is used as a time word we use the present simple.

e.g. When will they get married?

I'm not sure when they will visit us.

BUT: I will let you know when I decide.

b) with if (= whether) when it is used after expressions which show ignorance, uncertainty, etc. such as I don't know, I wonder, I doubt, etc.

e.g. I don't know if/whether he'll move house.

I doubt if/whether she'll pass her exams.

BUT: If you call her, give her my regards.
