A vibrant cartoon illustration of a town square. In the center, a character wearing a yellow shirt and a hat stands on a sidewalk, holding a large white sheet of paper and pointing towards a map. Several large, colorful arrows point in different directions, each labeled with a phrase: 'to go past' (purple arrow pointing left), 'to go straight' (black arrow pointing down), 'to go to' (black arrow pointing right), 'to go past' (purple arrow pointing down), 'to go to' (black arrow pointing up), and 'to go to' (black arrow pointing right). The town features various buildings: a Hospital with a red cross, a Restaurant, a Cafe, a Theater, a Post Office, a Police Station, a Fire Station, and a Supermarket. There are also buses, cars, and people walking on the streets. The scene is set in a sunny, bright environment with a clear blue sky.
