Pioneers

Pioneers-children 9-14 years old, at that time were already quite self-formed people. They divided into detachments, united in squads.

They already had full-fledged meetings and even congresses, to which the best of the best were delegated.

The pioneers carried out the orders of the Komsomol members and patronized October. Among their cases, one can mention assistance to the elderly and needy (Timur movement), collection of secondary raw materials, combating bad habit, pursuing interests in the Pioneer Houses.

Order of Pioneers

Komsomol members-
young people aged 15-28 years. They were considered advanced youth. The very best were accepted into the Komsomol. They did not accept loafers, those who were lazy, had bad habits or did not receive recommendations from the Pioneer Organization.

Members of the Komsomol already had membership cards, they paid membership fees. The best became active communists. The Komsomol members did not have clearly defined duties, a healthy way of life and patriotic upbringing were promoted. From the Komsomol can be «Kicked out». Such an exile lost the right to occupy executive positions and actually put an end to his career.
