

THE FRIAR'S TALE

THE FRIAR:

The Friar (Hubert)

- Jolly, merry, very festive but notoriously evil and cunning
- Married off girls after he had gotten them into trouble
- Charged people to hear their confessions, the more you paid the more "repentant you were"
- White neck = loose or immoral person
- He knew all the taverns, innkeepers and barmaids (not the sick and needy)
- He even begged off of poor widows who had next to nothing
- Dressed with expensive fabrics
- Overweight

CHARACTERS:

- SUMMONER
- YEOMAN(FIEND)
- FARMER
- WIDOW

Character Analysis

- Summoner – deceitful, greedy, dishonest
- Yeoman - dishonest
- Widow – innocent, honest

THE PLOT:

They swear to be brothers to their dying day.

• THEY MEET FARM

THEY COME TO WIDOW'S HOUSE.

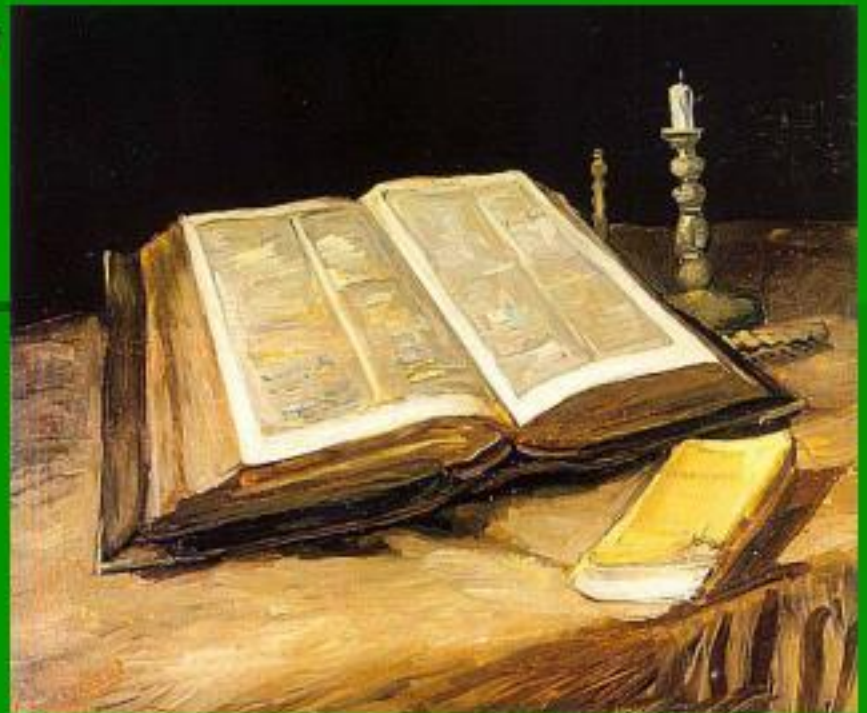

THE END.

Character's Importance

- Teaches moral lesson
- Warns pilgrims of evils in world
- Entertaining story

The End

Thank you for attention!