A rustic wooden cutting board is the central focus, featuring several slices of cured meat, likely prosciutto, with a visible fat layer. The board is garnished with fresh green basil leaves and sprigs of flat-leaf parsley. Small white and black peppercorns are scattered around the meat. The entire scene is set against a background of dark, weathered wooden planks. A knife with a white handle and a silver blade is positioned horizontally across the bottom of the frame, partially overlapping the cutting board.
