

How is the fourteenth of February celebrated in the countries?

UK

In 1797, a Young Man's Guide to Writing Valentine's Cards was published in England. It contained many rhymes and recommendations and was intended to help the unlucky Romeo

USA

In the USA, in the state of Nebraska, there is the city of Valentine. The city is named for Edward Kimble Valentine, a Nebraska Republican politician.

Germany

In 1496, the Catholic Church recognized the priest's merits, ranked him as a Saint, and declared February 14 Valentine's Day.

Japan

For the Japanese, Valentine's Day is a men's holiday. On this day women don't get any gifts and congratulations.

Yes, it is celebrated differently in all countries.
And everyone spends it in their own way.
