Ladies and gentlemen, welcome to the Museum of London Life. My name's Peter, and I'll be your guide, taking you through your exciting visit, which lasts for approximately ninety minutes, and traces the history of this vast and ever-changing city. But before we eventually arrive back here in the present, we begin our walk in ancient London, where we're going to take a look at life from the point of view of prehistoric men, women and children, looking at how they lived thousands of years ago, when all this around us was fields. At this point, London was little more than a few settlements dotted about here and there. Certainly nothing like the metropolis you see surrounding you today. So, from there, the walk allows you to see the city grow as you progress through the exhibits and take in the fascinating pieces of history that have been found and donated to the museum over the years – including maps, photos, images and thousands of other objects here. And finally, when we leave the part of the exhibition called 'Contemporary London', we'll move away from our present, here in the 21st century, and head off into the 22nd

- ✔ Time allowed: 11–14 minutes
- ✔ There are four assessment criteria:
- Fluency and coherence: how well you can speak at a normal speed without too much hesitation. It also includes putting your sentences and ideas in a logical order.
- Lexical resource: the range of vocabulary you use.
- Grammatical range and accuracy (GRA): the range of grammar you use and how accurately and appropriately you use it.
- Pronunciation: your ability to speak in a way which can be understood without too much effort.

Speaking Part 1

- 3. This is the easiest part of the Speaking test.
- 4. You normally talk about several topics in Part 1.
- 5. You need to give extra information when answering the questions.

Read the questions. Which ones would probably NOT be asked in Part 1 of the Speaking test? Why?

1. Do you live in a house or an apartment?

- If you could choose any country to visit, where would you go?
- What are the main issues affecting life in your town?
- 4. What do you like about the area where you live?
- How might overpopulation affect city life in the future?
- 6. How often do you use public transport in your town/city?
  - Why is it important to look after places of natural beauty?

8. Do you often visit parks in your town/city?

Listen to three candidates answering these three questions. For each question, what does the candidate do wrong?

N⁰	Question	What's wrong
1	Do you live in a house or in an apartment?	The candidate repeats the word 'apartment' several times.
2	What do you like about the area where you live?	It doesn't answer the question. It is highly likely to be a memorised answer – the vocabulary is good but not relevant to the topic at all.
3	Do you often visit parks in your towns/cities?	There are problems with the grammar used

Dos and Don'ts of Part 1

- Make eye contact regularly, speak loudly and clearly
- If you didn't understand the question, ask to repeat it
