

The anatomy of an email

© RUSLAN DOROSHENKO

“It’s one small step for man, one giant leap for mankind.”

- NEIL ARMSTRONG

What is email?

Through years people looked for the best ways of communication and thanks to technology evolution we have email!

E-mail stands for electronic mail, so you can send mail, including photos, texts, music, etc. to your family/friends/other people over the Internet! It's incredible, isn't it?

Where email is used?

Email is used almost everywhere! Few examples where you can use email:

- Job: need to send report for your boss? Use your email!
- Friends: need to share photos of your new car? Use your email!
- Family: went on vacation and want to share your photos? Use your email!
- Found a new job and want to send your CV? Use email!
- And a lot more...

