

In harmony with the world

Apurin Mikhail

The most important step to making world harmony is to understand more about the world. In order to understand and respect others, it is most helpful to know where and how people live. By studying other cultures we can learn the differences and similarities between people living in different countries around the world.

Peace and harmony is a basic prerequisite. Peace and harmony can bring a peaceful and stable order to society, and they are a necessary condition for the survival and development of mankind. A world deprived of peace and harmony certainly will fall apart and return to the jungle era in which the strong prey on the weak.

For me to live in harmony with others is to have no conflicts with other people. You try to understand the needs of others and be able to forgive their faults. Really, I try to avoid conflicts within my family and with my friends. In general, conflicts are destructive. So be patient and tolerant to each other.

Moreover, future generations stood to benefit from efforts to live in harmony with Nature, which also meant living in harmony with the world's oceans and seas, in the name of sustainability.

Young people feel that the path to take is that of a search for identity through cultures, lifestyles and forms of expression, in order to feel in harmony with the world around them.

I believe all of us need to be merciful and feel compassion not only towards our relatives and friends, but also to other people who suffer or are being in a hard life situation. Misfortune may happen to everybody, neither money, nor social status can help to survive the loss of someone's beloved, to reconcile with a death disease. A kind treatment and compassion can help here.
