

your heart
goes out to someone

искренне сочувствовать кому-либо, жалеть кого-либо

to break
one's heart

разбивать чье-то сердце, испытывать чувство горечи

to have a
heart of
stone

быть бессердечным,
бесчувственным

to wear one's heart on one's sleeve

показывать свои
чувства, не
скрывать своих
чувств

Sitting on a cozy winter evening, Rebecca watched the series. Nothing could distract her from watching. The plot was very exciting. A story about a young couple in which the girl believed that the guy had a heart of stone. He tried to prove otherwise. He started to wear one's heart on one's sleeve. She believed him, but in the end he broke one's heart and break off relations. Rebecca was amazed at the unfolding events and sat watching the series all night.
