The perfect woman

The perfect woman

- *The ideal woman should be real, the way she is. She must act according to her will, have dreams, goals, and strive for them. The ideal woman should be strong, if not physically, then mentally. She carefull.The ideal of a woman - everyone has their own. Do not adjust to other people's standards, love the typical "dolls". It is always necessary to pay attention to the wonderful inner world, which characterizes the ideal of a woman.y considers her actions, watches herself.

The perfect man

- * Appearance is for many one of the main criteria in the search for the ideal. And it's not just about attractive features and shapes. A guy should have good taste, be able to choose clothes and accessories for himself, know how to take care of himself. neatness, grooming and a charming smile are indispensable attributes of external attractiveness. the rumpled trousers, shaggy hair, and three-day stubble were long gone. Upbringing, intelligence, education in our time also play a decisive role in the image of a guy who claims to be the "best in the world". An interesting erudite interlocutor who can give valuable advice, a person who knows his goals in life and knows how to achieve them, will easily fit the role of the ideal guy.
