The image shows the facade of a castle named Şamaxı Şəhəri. It features two prominent cylindrical towers on either side, both constructed from light-colored stone blocks. Each tower has a crenellated top and several small, arched windows. In the center, a rectangular section of the wall also has a crenellated top and a row of five small, arched windows. The main wall between the towers is also made of stone blocks. The name 'ŞAMAXI ŞƏHƏRİ' is prominently displayed in large, white, serif capital letters across the center of the main wall. The sky is overcast and grey, and a few birds are visible in the distance.
