
POLITICAL PROCESS

In a narrow sense Political Process is the activity of social actors for the implementation of political decisions.

Iceland Referendum 2010

В 2008 году в начале финансового кризиса Исландия (население 320 тысяч, без армии), одна из самых богатых стран в мире. в буквальном смысле обанкротилась. Мнение в том, что граждане должны платить за ошибки финансовой монополии, что целая страна должна быть обложена данью, чтобы погасить частные долги, изменило отношения между гражданами и их политическими институтами, и в итоге привело к тому, что лидеры Исландии заняли сторону своих избирателей.

Президент Олафур Рагнар Grimsson отказался ратифицировать закон, который сделал бы граждан Исландии ответственными за долги исландских банкиров, и согласился созвать референдум

Но исландцы не остановились на достигнутом: они решили принять новую конституцию, которая освободила бы страну от власти международных финансов /

Чтобы написать новую конституцию, народ Исландии избрал 25 граждан из числа 522 взрослых, не принадлежащих ни к какой политической партии, которых рекомендовали как минимум 30 граждан.

Этот документ был делом рук не горстки политиков, а был написан в интернете. Учредительные заседания проводились он-лайн, и граждане могли писать свои комментарии и вносить предложения, своими глазами наблюдая, как их конституция постепенно обретает форму.

Hong Kong handover from GB to China

POLITICAL PROCESS

- Britain first took over Hong Kong island in 1842, after defeating China in the First Opium War. After the Second Opium War.
 - In 1898, to enforce its control of the area, the UK leased additional land, known as the New Territories, promising to return them to China in 99 years (returned in 1997).
 - Hong Kong developed rapidly under UK rule, becoming one of the world's major financial and business centers and had vastly different political and economic system from mainland China, which since 1949 is under authoritarian one-party Communist rule.

POLITICAL PROCESS

- China agreed to govern Hong Kong under the principle of "one country, two systems", where the city would enjoy "a high degree of autonomy, except in foreign and defence affairs" for the next 50 years.
 - Hong Kong became a Special Administrative Region.
This means it has:
 - its own legal system
 - multiple political parties
 - rights including freedom of assembly and free speech
 - The territory has its own mini-constitution to enshrine these special rights.

Hong Kong handover from GB to China

POLITICAL PROCESS

- In 2014, Beijing said it would allow direct election of the chief executive, but only from a list of pre-approved candidates. That was the breach of the GB and China agreements
 - That led to mass protests from people who wanted full direct democracy. The protests shut down central parts of the city for weeks.
 - There are also a lot of people in Hong Kong who are concerned that China is increasingly meddling in Hong Kong politics in other ways, undermining more politically liberal traditions.
