

Here Is My

Head

By Paola Juarez

Here is my head –

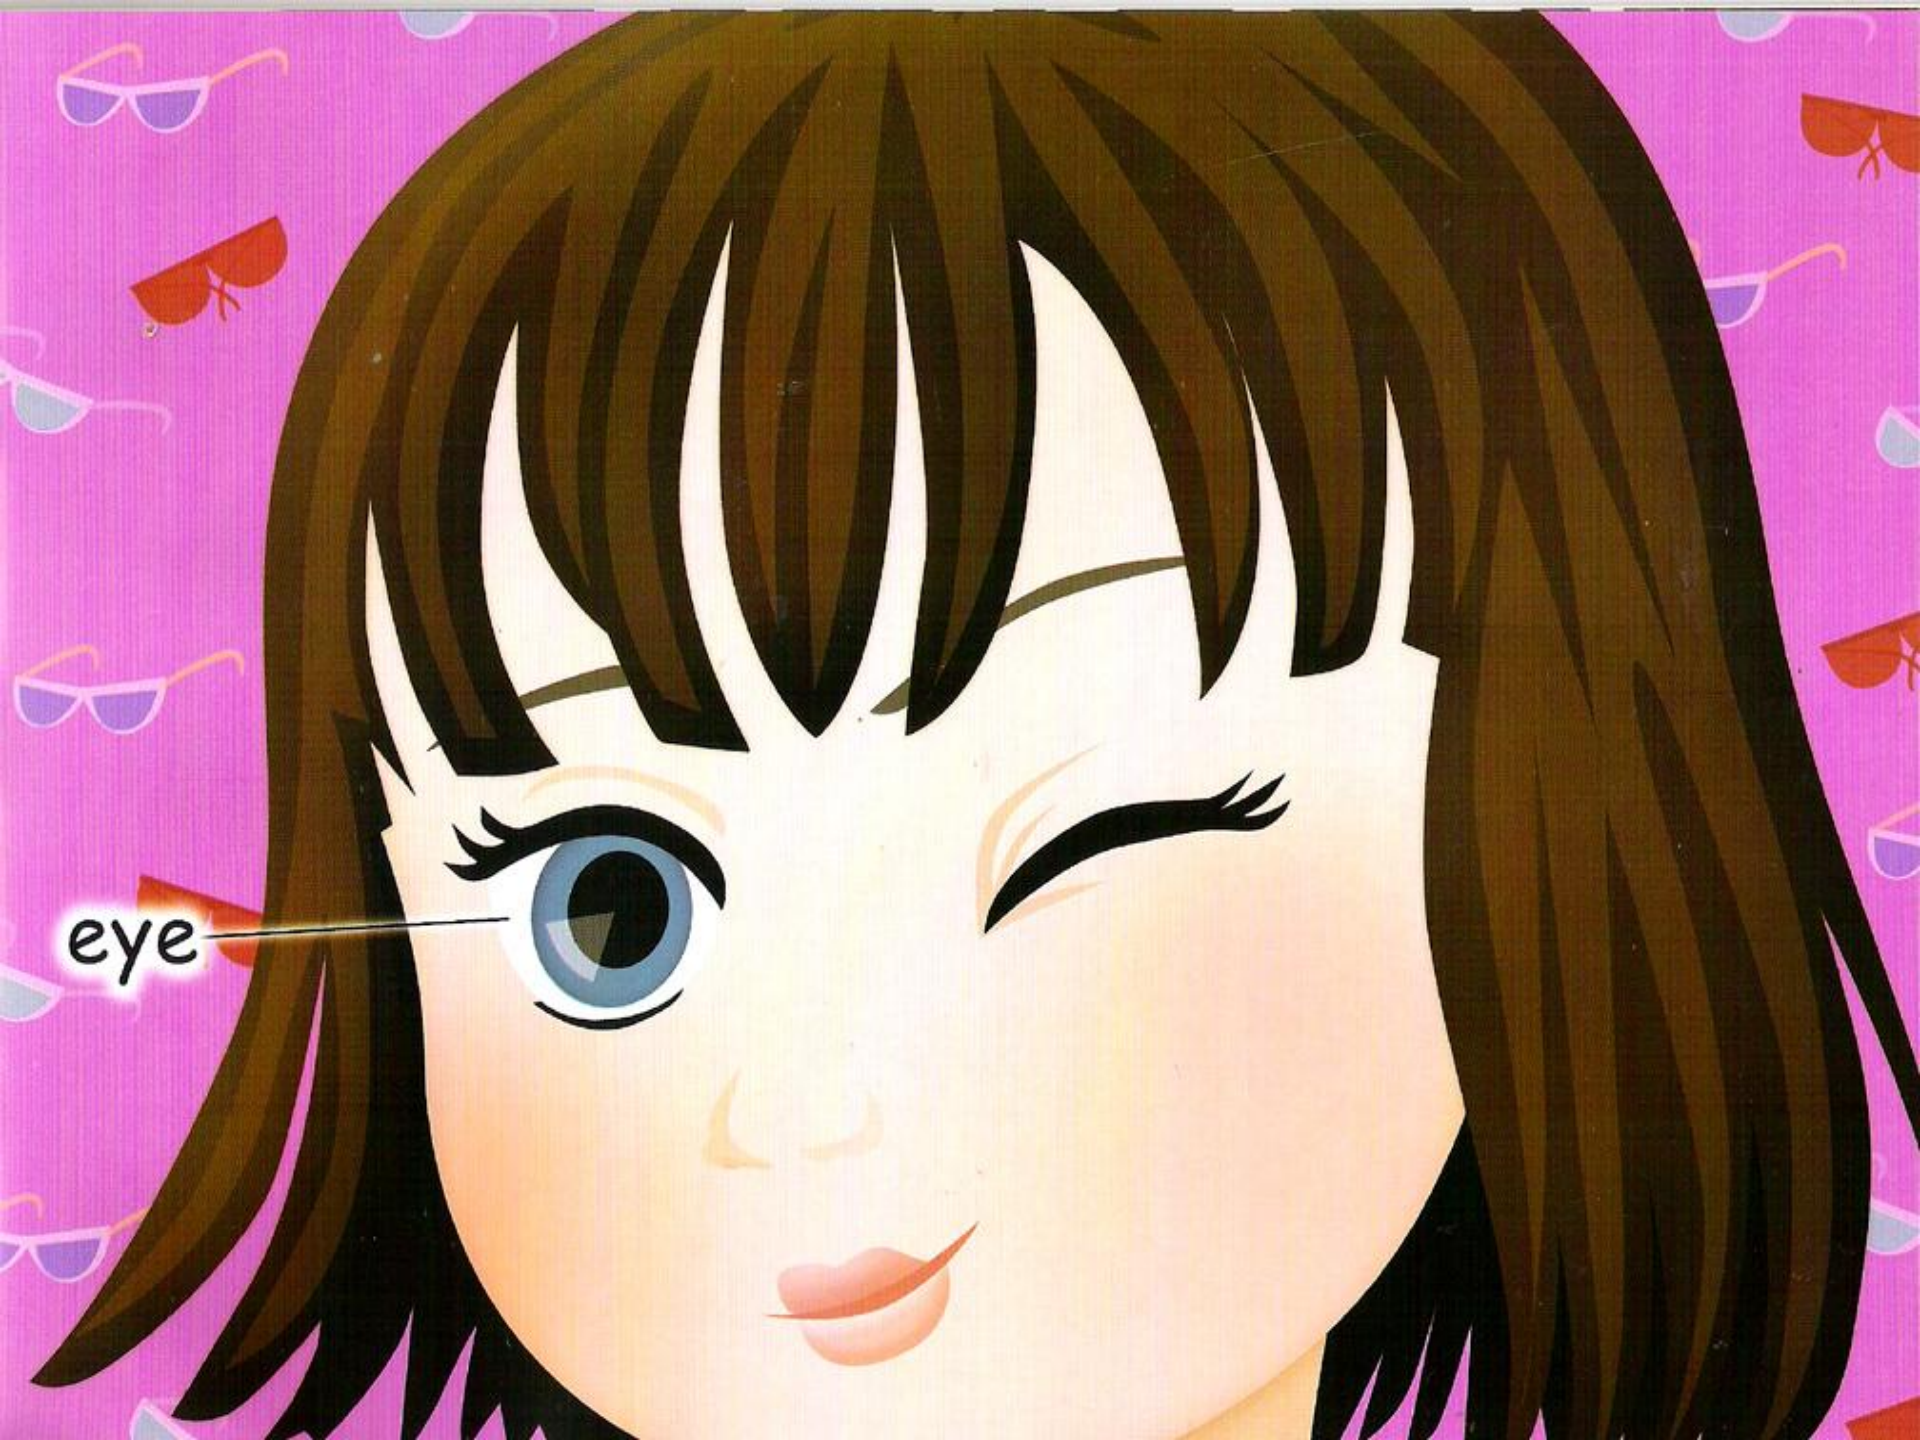

I use it to think!

These are my eyes –

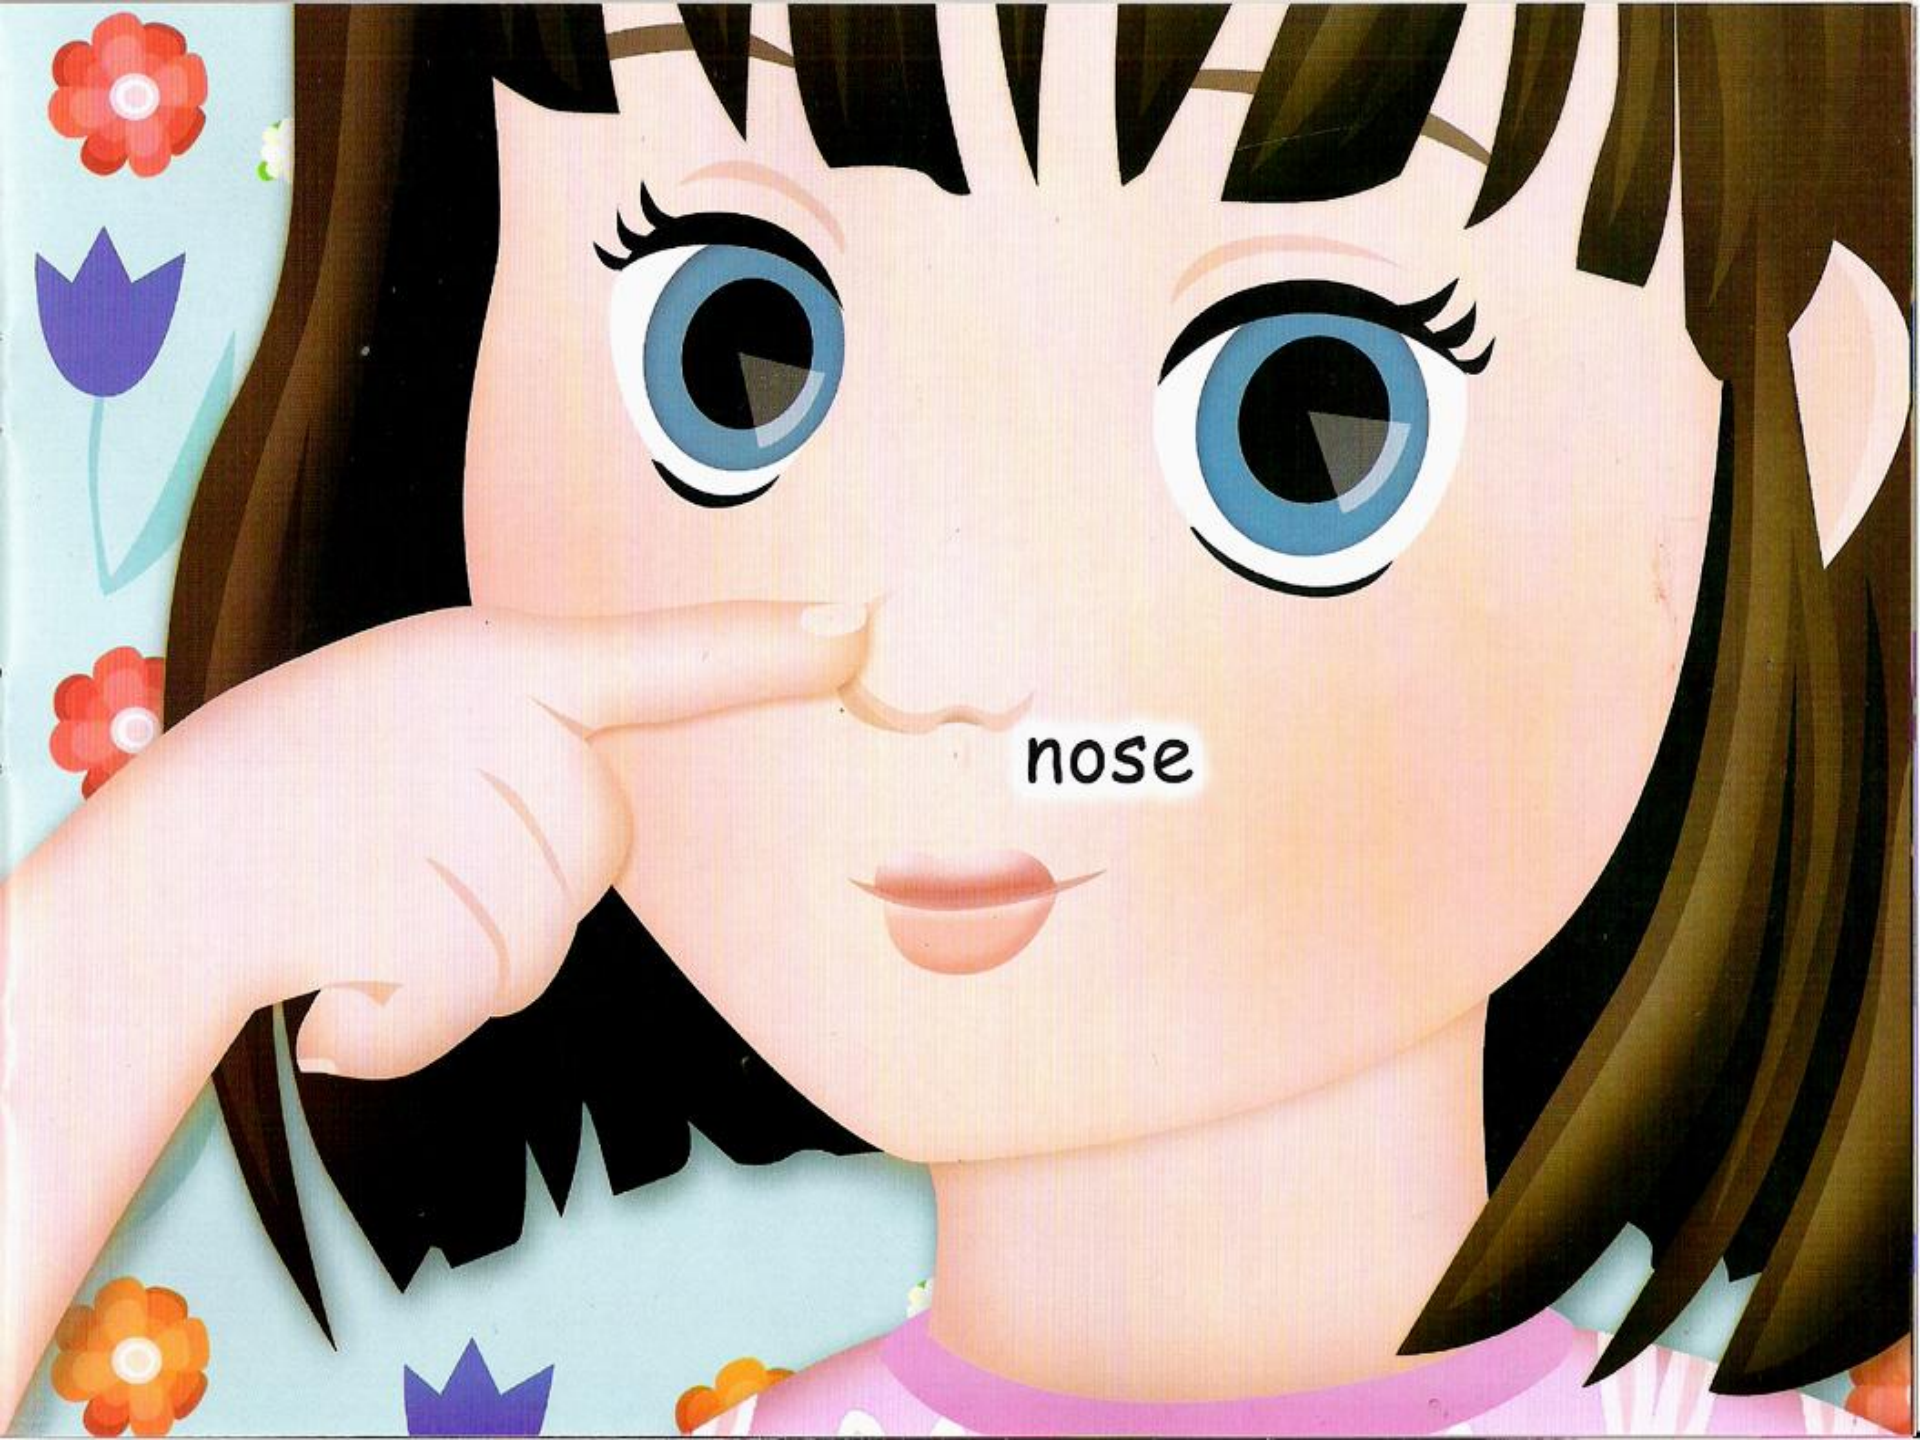

I use them to wink!

Here is my nose –

I use it to smell.

Here is my mouth –

it lets me speak well.

I have two rows of teeth –
they help me to eat.

A colorful illustration of a young girl's face, shown from the nose down to the neck. Her mouth is wide open, revealing her white teeth and pink tongue. The word "teeth" is written in a simple, black, sans-serif font across the lower teeth. The background is a vibrant red, decorated with several green apples and a brown tree trunk on the left side. The girl has dark hair and is wearing a purple top.

And I taste with my tongue – isn't that neat?

Here is my hair,

which Mom loves to style.

And here are my lips,

they look great

when I smile!
