

An artistic illustration depicting the traditional practice of falconry in the Middle East. The scene is set against a warm, golden-brown background. In the foreground, a large, detailed falcon is shown in profile, looking towards the left. In the background, several men in traditional white thobes and ghutras are engaged in falconry. One man on the left holds a falcon on his gloved hand, while another on the right is seen from the side, also holding a bird. In the lower center, a group of men are gathered, some holding falcons. A large falcon is shown in flight in the upper center. The overall style is that of a classic painting or illustration.
