

MY IDOL :

Sean(Arno) Garnier –
Football freestyler, winner of Red Bull Street Style 2008.

Football freestyle

- In 2005, the “Sian” began to promote domestic football in Paris and its suburbs. Football freestyle is a discipline that integrates soccer, motion break dance and even dancing with the ball. “Sian” love this football discipline that in 2006, he began to develop his own style and come up with tricks.

- Sian Garnier is often called a "genius of panna batl".He can skip the ball between the legs of any professional footballer.For Example,Neymar :)

- His greatest achievement is 1st place in world championship "Red Bull Street Style" in 2008 in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

- He often likes to go out and show the tricks to passersby, sometimes offering them to take away his ball.

- He wants to promote freestyle and street soccer, to make some kind of platform for kids and beginners to arrange an open competition, to Express themselves and to travel as he is.

- He believes that street soccer is the most "pure" form of football, because all play in the streets. So street soccer is the most popular sport.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR ATTENTION

Play street football, enjoy the game :)
