

Adverbial clauses

By Bazarbek Yerkezhan

Plan

1. Adverbial clause of result

*2. Adverbial clause of manner
and comparison*

WHAT IS AN ADVERBIAL CLAUSE?

A group of words which contains a subject and a finite verb (the main verb in a sentence) that describes a verb, an adjective and another adverb

Adverbial Clause of Result

These clauses are always linked with so that, so+adj.\adv. + that and such +a+ noun+that.etc.

Examples

1. Colin was so weak that he could not run.

2. It was such a strange story that no one believed it.

Clause of comparison

They answer the questions HOW MUCH?, HOW LITTLE?. The principal conjunctions are AS, AS THOUGH/IF, AS.....AS, SO.....AS and structures of comparison. If there is doubt or unreality, the past tense is used. Sometimes, an inversion subject/verb is produced

Examples

1.He is older than he looks.

2.No one can run faster than Raman.

3.You may do as you please.

4.It all ended as I expected.

5.As he has lived so he will die.

ADVERBIAL CLAUSE OF MANNER

These clauses are introduced by as,
as if and *as though

Examples

1. Please do as I have told you.

2. He cries as if he were mad.

3. She speaks as though he were the boss.

The subjunctive is used after as if and as though

Find the adverb clauses in these sentences. What are their meanings (time, place...)? If it is a reduced adverb clause, add the missing words.

- 1. I am happier than I ever was before.
- 2. That horse is more obstinate than a mule.
- 3. Ben fields baseballs better than he hits.

THANK YOU for your ATTENTION!

Opening slide image courtesy of Wikimedia Commons