

The image features a large green arrow pointing to the right, outlined in red. Inside the arrow, there are several text boxes and a pencil graphic. On the left, a white circle with a red border contains the letter 'I'. To its right, a white circle with a red border contains the words 'have got'. Further right, there are three white boxes with red borders: the top one contains 'bike', the middle one contains 'a bike', and the bottom one contains 'a bikes'. On the right side of the arrow, there is a stylized pencil with a red body and a yellow eraser. The entire graphic is set against a white background.

The diagram consists of a large orange rounded rectangle. Inside, from left to right, are three circles and three boxes. The first circle contains the word "She". The second circle contains the words "has" and "got" stacked vertically. The third circle contains the words "an" and "apple" stacked vertically. To the right of the circles are three boxes: the top one contains "a apple", the middle one contains "an apple", and the bottom one contains "an apple". On the far right, a large red and yellow pencil is pointing to the right.
