

Traveling is as old as humankind

Let's have a look at how people travel

In the past people traveled to hunt, to find food and to visit spiritual places – like Stonenge

The old Romans had to travel around Europe to be able to manage their new lands – Pont-du-Gard in France

In the medieval times, people used horses and coaches to travel – for example crusades

Later ships were used for overseas travels which gave the world a lot of important discoveries

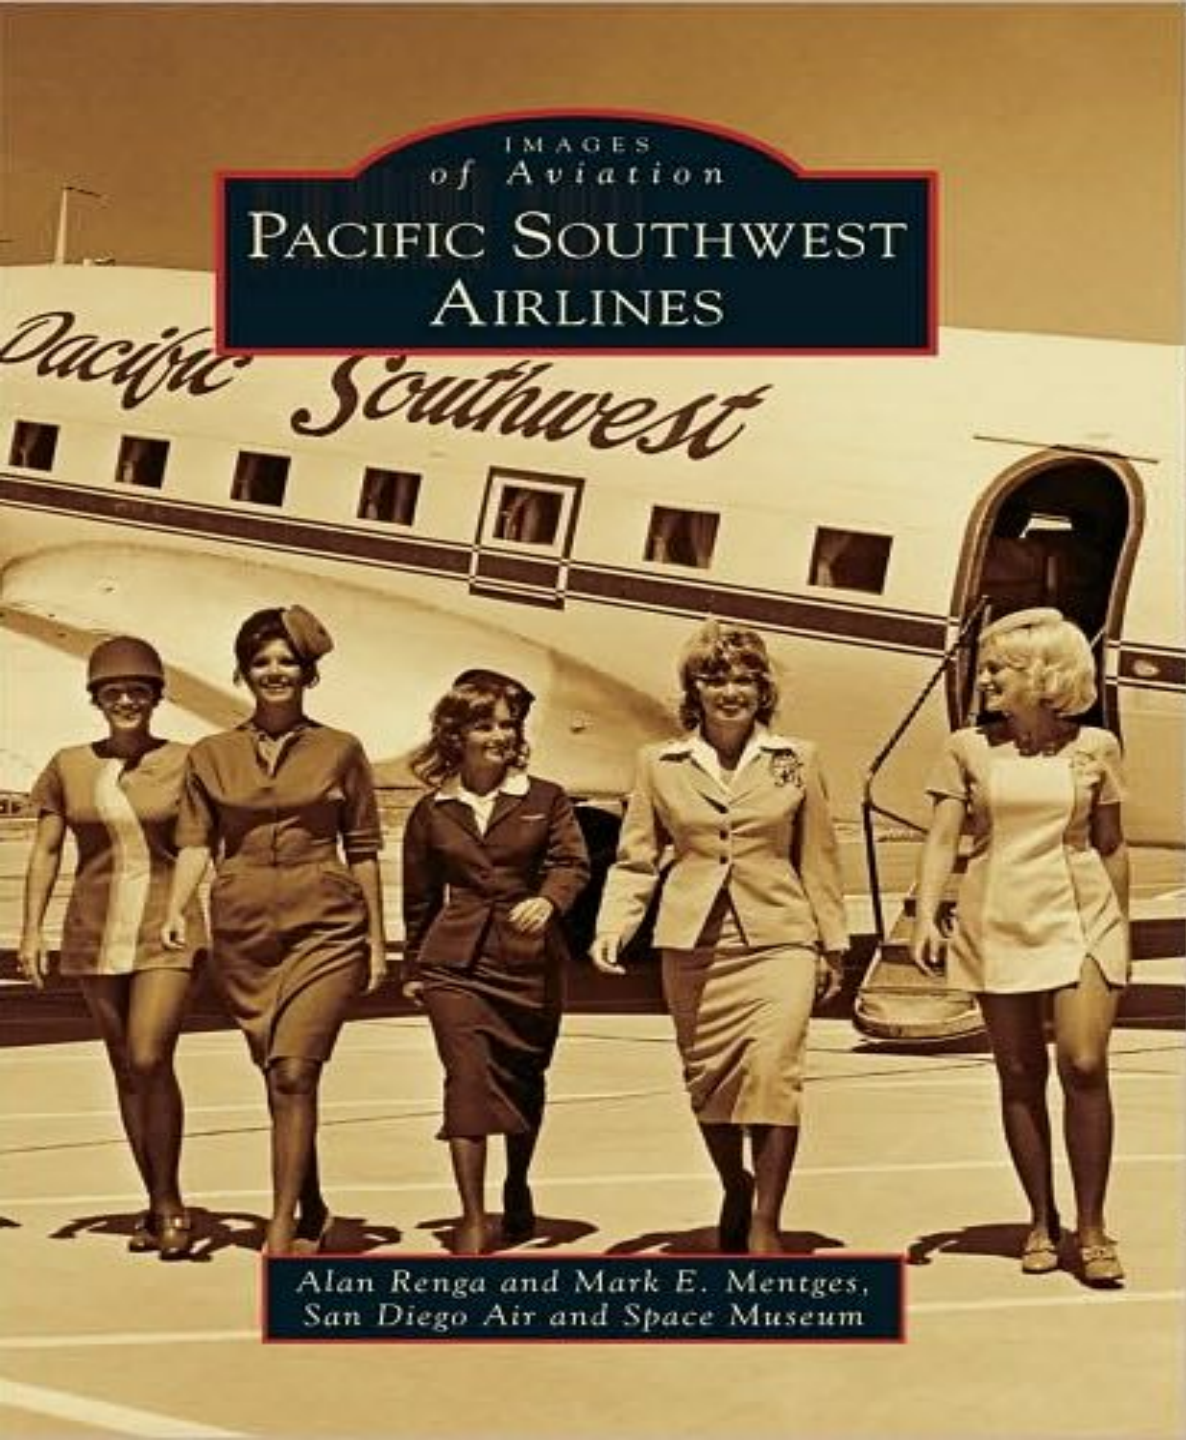

The first trains started traveling in the 19th century – in the USA they helped thousands of people to travel to far places in the west – but often were attacked by gangs of outlaws

Ford T – the first mass produced car in the world – meant a real revolution in the way people traveled – USA September, 1908

Airplanes – after the second world war started to be used for civil services – first airlines were established

Holiday travel meant an incredible boom in the way people travel these days – thousands of people move from the north to the south at the beginning of the summer in cars...

Planes.....holiday travel causes that the airports are crowded....

Coach city tours are also popular...
mainly in Europe

Traveling in the future..... space?
Would you go if you had the chance?
