

Car of the future

Sarkisyan Edmon

What type of engine will my car have?

There is a lot of types car engine could be:

- 1) Engines will be definitely electrified;
- 2) Engine cylinder could work in pairs;
- 3) Engine could become a hybrid between a petrol and a diesel engine etc.

What will cars interior look like?

There will be many comfortable features. As example BMW has already previewed its own future cabin, which includes a large screen running almost the full width of the cabin.

What sort of tyres my car will have?

1) Tyres and vehicles will have a connect which will develop of the transport safety.

2) When tyres will be heated by a surface heat energy will be transformed to electricity energy.

Won't these high-tech interiors distract me?

I think there will be no some distraction from cars but on the contrary it will help people as they could control car action by gestures of themself.

Thank you for your attention
