Кинематограф

The background is a deep blue monochromatic scene. It features several film strips that are slightly out of focus, creating a sense of depth. In the lower-left foreground, a film reel is visible, with its two spools and the film strip winding around them. The overall aesthetic is that of a classic cinema or animation studio.
