Example

I'd like to describe picture № 2. The picture shows us a famous Tower Bridge. The photo was (probably) taken outside. In this picture the action is taking place in the city. I would like to tell some facts about this wonderful sight of London. Tower Bridge regulates a large part of the impressive traffic of the Port of London. Due to a special mechanism, the main traffic-way consisting of two parts fixed to two hinges at the ends can be lifted up. In this way, the entrance and departure of extremely large vessels is possible, and it allows them to reach the Pool of London. We have a similar system of special mechanisms in Saint-Petersburg.

Looking at this picture I get the impression that the person taking the picture is thinking about something important and wants to express it. Tower Bridge commands wide and magnificent views of both the city and the river. The colors are bright and clear. The photo was taken in the evening. I'd like to describe picture № 2. The picture shows us a famous Red Square. It is a central city square in Moscow, the capital of Russia. It is always open to visitors and tourists love taking pictures there. The photo was (probably) taken outside. In this picture the action is taking place in the city. I would like to tell some facts about this wonderful sight of Moscow. The name of the square comes from the color of the bricks around it. Many famous Russian artists pictured the square in their works. It used to be Moscow's main marketplace. It was also the place for important public ceremonies. The only monument on the square is a bronze statue of Kuzma Minin and Dmitry Pozharsky. They once helped to clear Moscow from the Polish invaders.

Looking at this picture I get the impression that the person taking the picture is thinking about something important and wants to express it. Today the square is surrounded by many significant buildings, such as Lenin's Mausoleum, glorious Saint Basil's Cathedral, the palaces and towers of the Kremlin, GUM – the main department store of the Soviet Union, the restored Kazan Cathedral, the State Historical Museum and several other objects. That is why people take a lot of photos of it. The colors are bright and clear. The photo was taken in the evening. I like the picture because the atmosphere is pleasant and quiet. I'd like to describe picture № 2. The picture shows us a famous London Eye. The photo was (probably) taken outside. In this picture the action is taking place in the city. I would like to tell some facts about this wonderful sight of London. It is a giant Ferris wheel, located on the South Bank of the River Thames. Also known as the Millennium Wheel, London eye was the biggest Ferris wheel in the world until 2006, but even then it remains the largest in Europe. Some people call such a ride on such a tall wheel a flight.

Looking at this picture I get the impression that the person taking the picture is thinking about something important and wants to express it. London eye offers tourists great observation point so suitable for the photography, but it is also an important symbol of London. That is why people take a lot of photos of it.
