7. THE PERFECT FORMS

to have + Participle II

7.1 THE PRESENT PERFECT TENSE

AFFIRMATIVE	NEGATIVE	INTERROGATIVE
I have worked	I have not worked	Have I worked?
He has worked	He has not worked	Has he worked?
She has worked	She has not worked	Has she worked?
It has worked	It has not worked	Has it worked?
We have worked	We have not worked	Have we worked?
You have worked	You have not worked	Have you worked?
They have worked	They have not worked	Have they worked?
I've worked	I haven't worked
He's worked	He hasn't worked

*The Present Perfect is always connected with the present:
Present Perfect = Past + Present.*

1. It denotes a completed action connected with the present.

- I am a little frightened for I have lost my way.
- He has recovered from his illness (he is better now).

The only thing which matters here is the result: the time when the action took place is of no importance.

- I have seen this film (I can discuss it with you now).

Questions in the Present Perfect never start with when:

- When did you see this film?

2. The Present Perfect is frequently used with:

a) the adverbs: ever never just already yet of late/lately/recently

- I have never seen him.
- I have not spoken to her yet.

b) this morning/evening, today, this week, this year

(when these periods are not finished at the time of speaking):

- Has Ann had a holiday this year?
- Have you seen him today?

c) the prepositions for, since:

- I have known her for two years.
- He has not seen his friends since last September.
- I haven't seen him since he left for Moscow.

d) the expression: This (it) is the first time:

- This is the first time* he has driven a car.

3. The Present Perfect is not used in:

- Что Вы сказали? – What did you say?
- Я не слышал вашего вопроса. – I did not hear your question.
- Я забыл. – I forgot.
- Теперь я понял. – Now I understand.
- Где Вы купили эту книгу? – Where did you buy the book?

Ex. 13. (A, B) Translate the questions and answers.

Example: Когда ты в последний раз видел Аню? – Я не видел ее с мая.

When did you last see Ann? – I haven't seen her since May.

1. Когда в последний раз шел дождь? – Дождя не было целую вечность.
2. Когда они навещали вас в последний раз? – Они не навещали нас с июня.
3. Когда ты в последний раз играл в теннис? – Я уже давно не играл в теннис.
4. Когда ты в последний раз ела кокос? – Я никогда не ела кокос.

6. Когда ты в последний раз ездил в Канаду? – Я никогда не ездил в Канаду.
7. Когда она тебе писала в последний раз? – Она не писала с прошлого лета.

Ex. 14. (A, B) Translate into English using the Present Perfect Tense.

2. Ты показал маме свою картину? – Нет, она еще не готова.
3. Я посмотрел этот фильм. А ты? – Да. Это интересный фильм.

9. Она никогда не переводила такие

трудные статьи. 10. Я звонил ему три раза сегодня. 11. Сегодня он уехал в Нью-Йорк.
12. Ты видел директора сегодня? – Нет.

Ex. 15. (B, C) Translate into English. The first sentence is done for you.

It's the third time I've phoned you this evening.

2. Ты опоздала уже второй раз на этой неделе.

3. Машина ломается уже третий раз за месяц.

4. Я выпила уже пятую чашку кофе за вечер.

7.2 THE PRESENT PERFECT AND PAST INDEFINITE (SIMPLE)

- a) Do not use the Present Perfect (I have done) when you are talking about a finished time in the past (for example: last Tuesday, seven years ago, in 1995, when I was a student).

Use the Past Indefinite:

- I lost my English book yesterday. (not 'has lost')
- Did you see the football match on television last night? (not 'have you seen')
- Father retired from his job a year ago. (not 'has retired')
- I swam in the lake when I was a child. (not 'have swum')

To ask when something happened, use the Past Indefinite Tense:

- What time* did they start? (not 'have they started')
- When* was he born? (not 'has he been born')

COMPARE:

- I have lost my English book. (Present Perfect)

Here I am not thinking of the past action; I am thinking of the present result of the action: I am without an English book now.

- I lost my English book yesterday. (Past Indefinite)

Here I am thinking of the action in the past. I don't say whether I am still without a book.

- b) Now compare these sentences:

Present Perfect (I have done)

- I've seen Margaret today.
Today is a period of time which continues up to present. It is not a finished time.
So we use the Present Perfect.

Past Indefinite (I did)

- I saw Margaret yesterday.
Yesterday is a finished time in the past.
So we use the Past Indefinite.

today

past ----- (unfinished time) ----- present

- I haven't had holidays this year.
- Have you spoken to Jill this morning?
(It is still morning).
- Have you been ill recently?
- Brian has lived in Ireland for 6 years
(He still lives there).
- I have never ridden a horse (in my life).

The Present Perfect always has a connection with the present.

yesterday

past ----- (finished time) ----- present

- I didn't have holidays last year.
- Did you speak to Jill this morning?
(It is afternoon now)
- Were you ill last week?
- Brian lived in Wales for 10 years
(He no longer lives there).
- I didn't ride when I was on holiday last summer.

The Past Indefinite tells us only about the past.

Commuter Marriages

Many modern marriages are finding interesting solutions to difficult problems. Take Joe and Maria Tresante, for example. Joe and Maria married in June 2000. They lived in Detroit for three years. Then in 2003 Joe, a college professor, got a great job offer in Los Angeles. At the same time, Maria's company moved to Boston. They are still married, but they have lived apart ever since. They have decided to travel back and forth between Boston and Los Angeles until one of them finds a different job. Sociologists call this kind of marriage a "commuter marriage." "It hasn't been easy," says Maria. "Last month I saw Joe three times, but this month I've only seen him once."

It also hasn't been inexpensive. In addition to the cost of frequent air flights, their phone bills have gone up. Last month, they started to communicate more by e-mail with the hope of lowering their expenses.

Is all this trouble and expense worth it? "Yes," says the couple. "It was a difficult decision, but so far it has worked out for us. It's better for us both to have jobs that we like." The Tresantes have had to work hard to make their marriage succeed, but the effort has paid off. The couple notes, "We've been geographically separated, but we've grown closer emotionally."

I've just finished reading a fascinating article about Felicia Mabuza-Suttle. Actually, ^{I've read} ~~I read~~ several articles about her this year. She's a very famous international businesswoman and talk-show host in South Africa. Guess what! We have something in common! She and her husband had a "commuter marriage" for more than 15 years, and they are still happily married! She lives in Johannesburg, South Africa; he lives in Atlanta, Georgia. That's a whole ocean apart! They have met in the 1970s. In the first 10 years of their marriage they have lived in more than 10 cities. Then, in the early 1990s she has returned to South Africa to help her country. It wasn't an easy life, but they both feel it's been very worthwhile.

Their situation makes our problems seem not that bad. Joe and I are only 3,000 miles apart, and we have managed to see each other a lot since we left Detroit. But, to be honest, I have been happier when we have lived together in Detroit. I hope we can live together again someday soon.

Look at the chart. Work in pairs and discuss the information. Use the words in the box.
