Exploring Russia

There are thousands of natural and cultural attractions in Russia and no better way to see them than by train.

TRANS-SIBERIAN RAILWAY ROUTE

Many people say the only way to see Russia is by train.

So, if you're going by train, you may as well go on the nicest and longest train journey there is — Trans-Siberian Railway.

Trans-Siberian Railway Journey

- Trans-Mongolian Line
- Trans-Siberian Line
- Moscow to Saint Petersburg Line

From start to finish the journey covers 6,000 miles (9656,064km), a third of the way around the Earth!

6,000 miles, a third of the way around the Earth!

There is a regular service, so you can get on and off the train to enjoy the many wonderful cities along the way.

For example, you can stop at Yaroslavl, which is one of Russia's oldest cities and has many beautiful buildings to see.

Then there is Krasnoyarsk, founded in 1628, where you can see the unusual cliffs at

Let's not forget Vladivostok, with its natural harbour and lively city centre.

The railway has three main routes. The Trans-Siberian line goes from Moscow to Vladivostok. The Trans-Manchurian line goes from Tarskaya to Beijing through China, and the Trans-Mongolian line goes from Ulan-Ude to Beijing through Mongolia.
