

A yellow submarine is shown from a side profile, facing right. It has a conical tower on top with a periscope and an antenna. The main body is cylindrical with three circular portholes. At the rear, there is a propeller. A sonar sensor is located at the front. Labels with leader lines point to each of these parts.

periscope

antenna

tower

propeller

sonar

porthole