

IS THERE A LINK
BETWEEN A
BLACK SWAN AND GLOBAL ECONOMY?

COVID-19

Confirmed cases 1,093,349

3,300 McDonald's restaurants in China have closed

Confirmed cases 120

Starbucks has shut down more than half its 4,300 stores

Countries, areas or territories with cases 259

Financial crises

- Swedish banking crisis (1990s)
- 1994 economic crisis in Mexico
- 1997 Asian financial crisis
- 1998 Russian financial crisis
- Early 2000s recession
- Crisis in Venezuela (2012-now)

Epidemics

Wars

Scientific discoveries

Terrorist attacks

The Black Death

1347-1351

- 20 million people died
- destruction of established relations
- one-third of Europe's population
- increase of wages
- slump in trade
- improvement of standards of living
- extreme inflation

9/11 terrorist attack

September, 2001

- Dow Index dropped almost 700 points

- over 25,000 injuries

- 430,000 jobs were lost

- 3000 victim fatalities

- $10 billion in infrastructure and property damage

- The GDP for New York City declined by $30.3 billion over the last three months of 2001 and all of 2002

Invention of the Internet

- possibilities for companies to display their advertisements more effectively
 - no geographical borders
 - companies reduce transaction costs
- firms are more competitive
 - more qualitative and faster service for customers
 - solving the problem of personnel shortage through using online platforms
 - online payment services
- online training and educational programs
 - increase in wealth and sustainable economic growth