What is the purpose of a person doing business?

The desire to make a profit

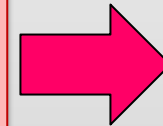

The desire to show their abilities, character

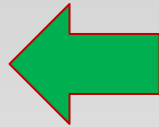

History knows various ways to start a business ...

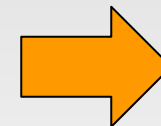

Merchants from different countries bought cheap goods in one place, and sold it where it cost more.

Later, the initiative passed to those who owned workshops or factories.

A typical figure of the capitalist era has become a man who has his own business.

Modern business is done mainly by young people - those who are not yet 30 years old.
