"Dear Sir,—I beg to tell you that I constantly apply your superior composition to my boots, and am so satisfied of its usefulness that I frequently recommend it to my friends; and I think it is, that it prevents leather from getting dry and hard. I have used it this day upon a pair of new boots for the first time, which I purchased about a month since of the Great Kid. You will be so good as to send me a bottle of your opinion as to the merits of your composition.

I am, dear Sir,
Yours truly,
Mr. Strawson.

"Dear Sir,—I have much pleasure in recommending your superior leather, which I have used for years with the most complete success. I submit to the test of experience, and find that this leather, dressed twice a week, keeps for some hours at least, soft and supple, and does not crack or wear in with confidence assure that its merits are so generally recommended to gentlemen, that I feel it my duty to state, feeling, as, being the proprietor, I am,
Yours truly,

"DEAR SIR,—I have recently suffered much from a most violent cough, proceeding from a thill in my chest, which no remedy, out of many I resorted to, could allay. My head was constantly aching, and my whole frame entirely shaken. Having seen the good effects of your Balsam of Aniseed in several numbers of my family, I purchased a small bottle, and used it as directed. Just as I was about to retire to bed, I took a few drops, and in a few minutes I was fast asleep. I awoke in the morning, and found my cough entirely cured. I am, dear Sir, very faithfully yours,
