

USEFUL PHRASES

Для описания людей и предметов используйте Present Simple

*The spider is under the bed, it is not on the bed.
The woman has got curly hair, the others have got straight hair.*

Для описания действий используйте Present Continuous

*The bird isn't flying, it is sitting in the tree.
The boy isn't writing, he is listening to music.*

 Не забывайте использовать BUT или BECAUSE

These are vegetables but this is a watermelon, it's not a vegetable, it's a fruit.

This picture is different because this is not a face, this is a foot.

чаще всего используются следующие фразы:

there is/are, this is/these are

There is a bear on the sofa, there are toys under the sofa.

There are children, they are at school. There are children, they are in the garden.

this is/these are

This is a fish, these are birds.

These are animals, this is a toy.

has got/have got

They have got blond hair, he has got dark hair.

is wearing/are wearing

They are wearing jeans, she is wearing a skirt.

The examiner might say:

Now look at these four pictures. One is different. The bed is different. You can find a toothbrush, a towel and a shower in the bathroom. But you can't find a bed there. You find a bed in the bedroom. Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? Why? ...

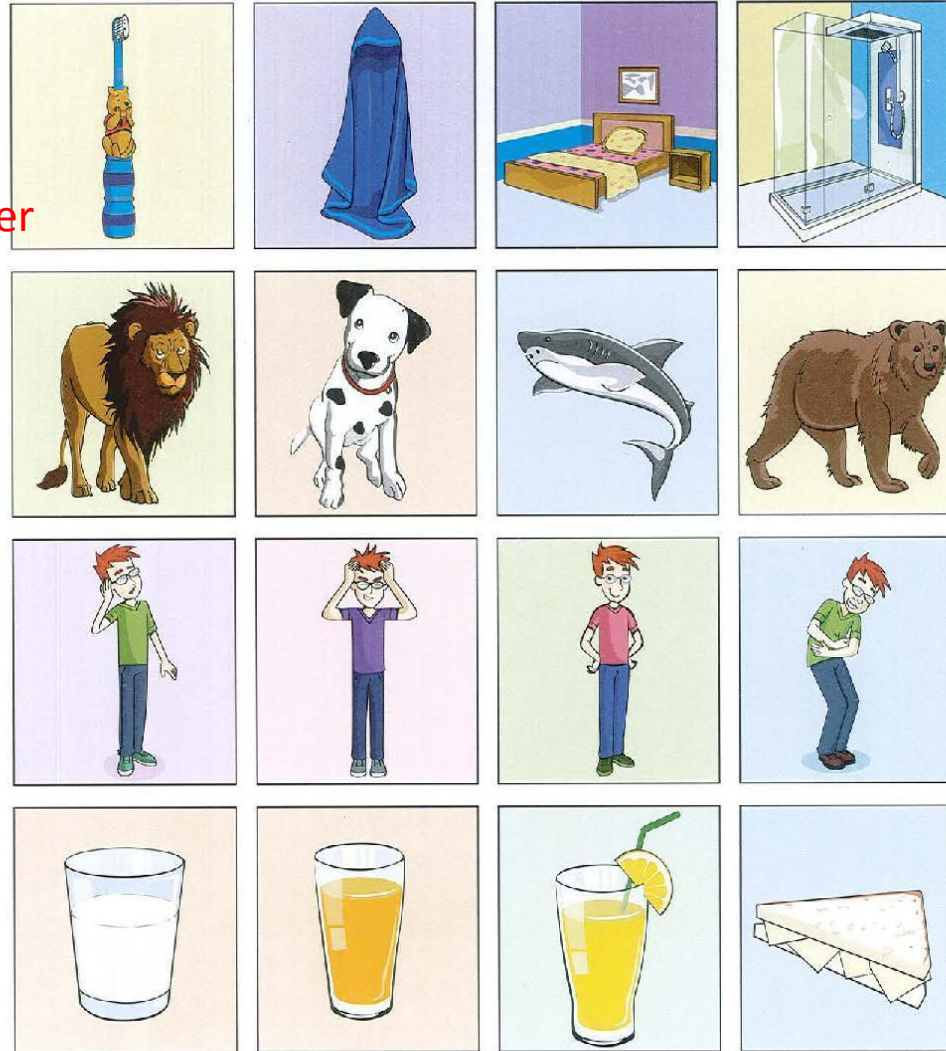

Toothbrush, towel, bed, shower

Lion, dog, shark, bear
Jungle, ocean

Toothache, headache, stomachache, happy, sad

Milk, juice, lemonade, sandwich
Drink, eat

ODD ONE OUT

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this/that is/these are
this is/these are
has got/have got
is wearing/are wearing

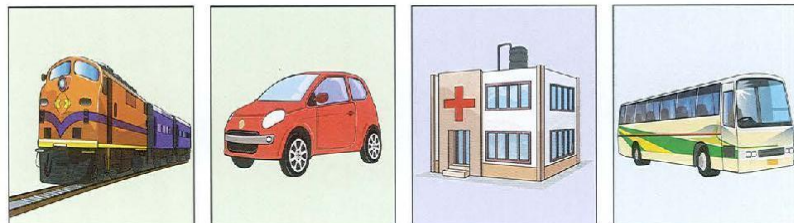

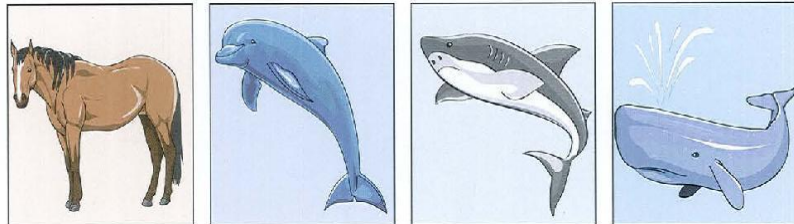

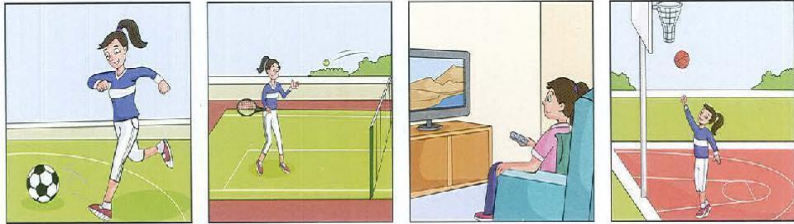

Now look at these four pictures. One is different. The book is different. A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are fruit. You eat them. You don't eat a book. You read it.

Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are
this is/these are
has got/have got
is wearing/are wearing

ODD ONE OUT

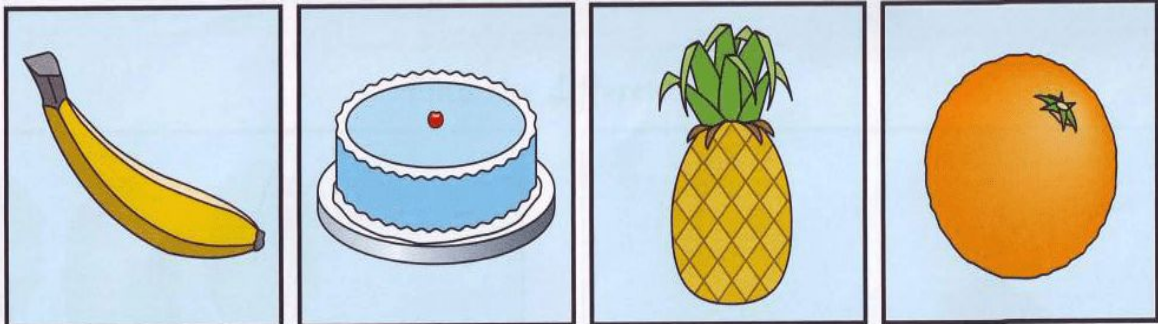

Test 2 Speaking

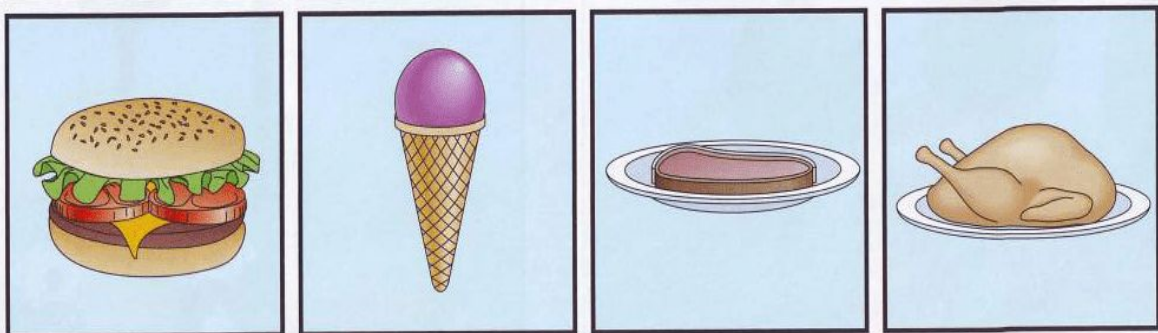

Skirt, sweater, scarf, kangaroo, clothes, animal

Horse, dolphin, shark, whale, farm, ocean

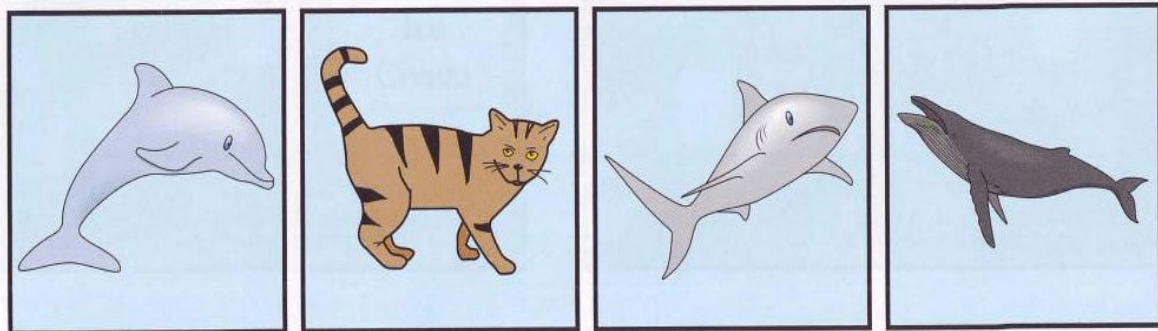

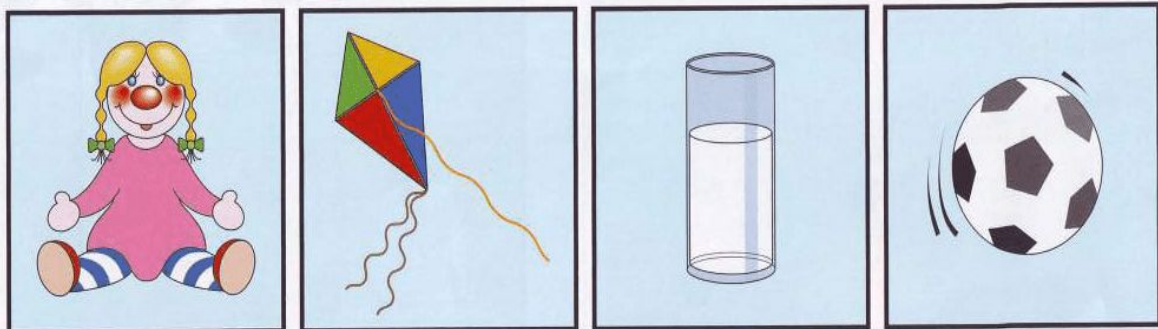

Tram, car, hospital, bus, travel

Now look at these four pictures. This one is different. A banana, an orange and a pineapple are all fruit. This isn't a fruit. It's a cake. Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are, has got/have got, is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. This one is different. A banana, an orange and a pineapple are all fruit. This isn't a fruit. It's a cake.

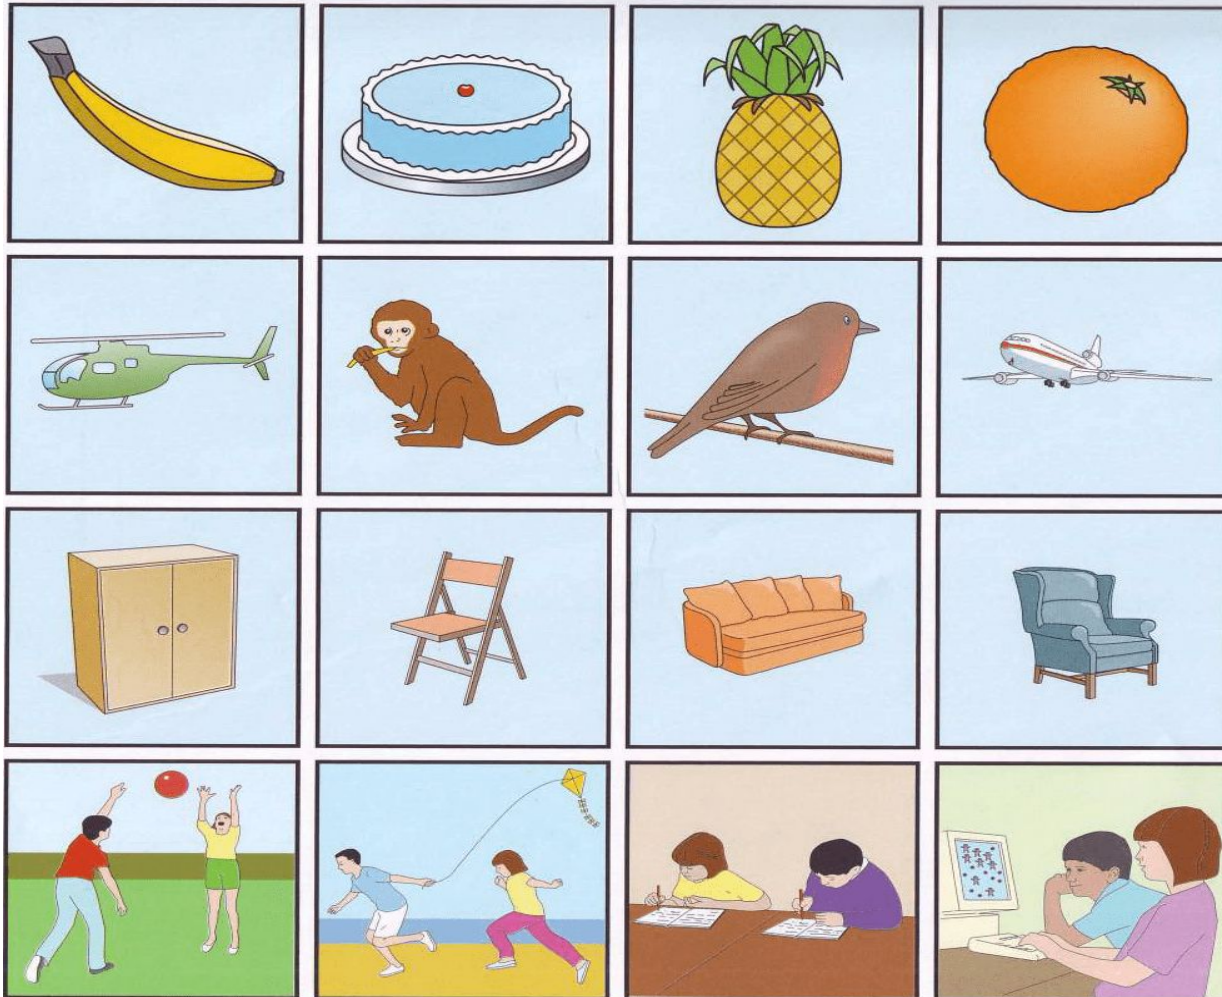

Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are, this is/these are, has got/have got, is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. This one is different. A banana, an orange and a pineapple are all fruit. This isn't a fruit. It's a cake.

Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are this is/these are has got/have got is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. One is different. The book is different. A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are fruit. You eat them. You don't eat a book. You read it.

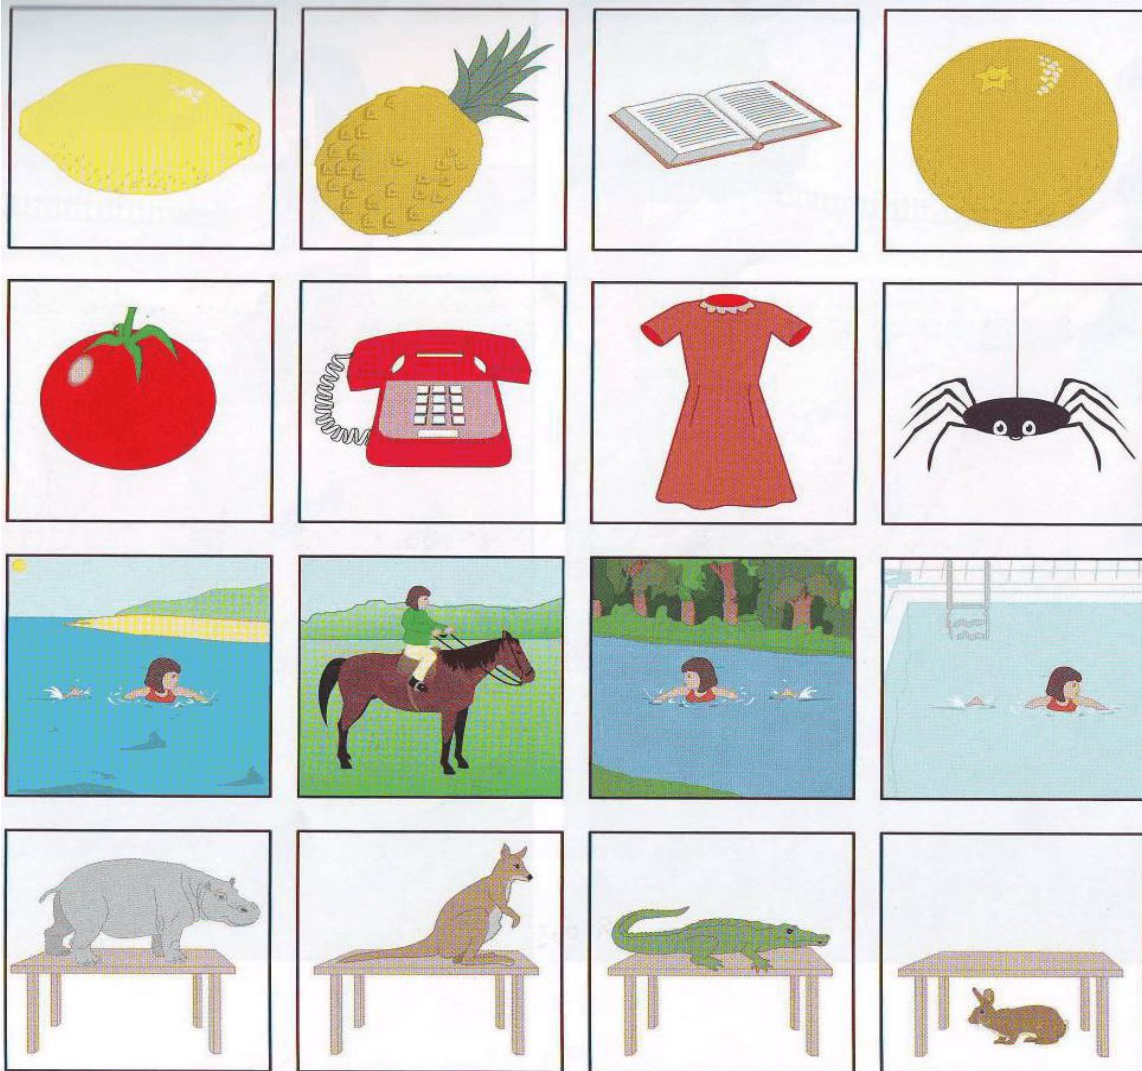

Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are, this is/these are, has got/have got, is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. One is different. The book is different. A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are fruit. You eat them. You don't eat a book. You read it.

Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are, this is/these are, has got/have got, is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. One is different. The book is different. A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are fruit. You eat them. You don't eat a book. You read it. Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are, this is/these are, has got/have got, is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. One is different. The book is different. A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are fruit. You eat them. You don't eat a book. You read it.

Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are this is/these are has got/have got is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. One is different. The book is different. A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are fruit. You eat them. You don't eat a book. You read it. Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are, this is/these are, has got/have got, is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. One is different. The book is different. A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are fruit. You eat them. You don't eat a book. You read it.

Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are this is/these are has got/have got is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. This one is different. A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are all fruit. This isn't a fruit. It's a book.

Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are, this is/these are, has got/have got, is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. This one is different. A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are all fruit. This isn't a fruit. It's a book.
Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are, has got/have got, is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. This one is different. A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are all fruit. This isn't a fruit. It's a book.

Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are, has got/have got, is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. One is different. The book is different. A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are fruit. You eat them. You don't eat a book. You read it.

Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are, has got/have got, is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. One is different. The book is different. A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are fruit. You eat them. You don't eat a book. You read it. Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are, this is/these are, has got/have got, is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. One is different. The book is different. A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are fruit. You eat them. You don't eat a book. You read it.

Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are, this is/these are, has got/have got, is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. One is different. The book is different. A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are fruit. You eat them. You don't eat a book. You read it.

Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different?
(Why?)

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are, this is/these are, has got/have got, is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. One is different. The book is different. A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are fruit. You eat them. You don't eat a book. You read it. Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are, this is/these are, has got/have got, is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. One is different. The book is different.
A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are fruit. You eat them. You don't eat a book. You read it.

Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are
this is/these are
has got/have got
is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. One is different. The book is different.
A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are fruit. You eat them. You don't eat a book. You read it.

Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

Odd-one-out

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are
this is/these are
has got/have got
is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. One is different. The book is different. A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are fruit. You eat them. You don't eat a book. You read it.

Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

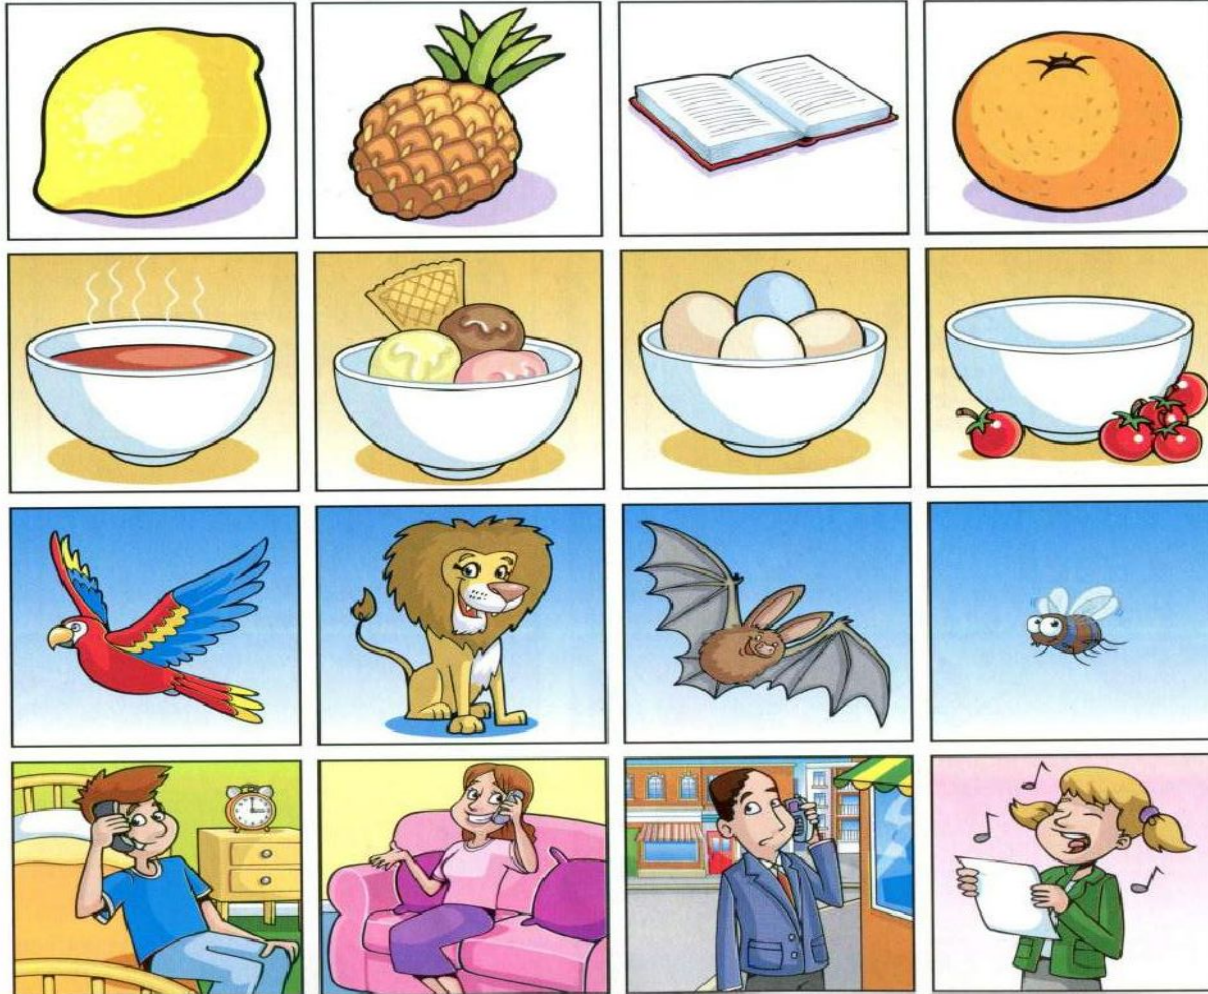

Odd-one-out

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are this is/these are has got/have got is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. One is different. The book is different.
A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are fruit. You eat them. You don't eat a book. You read it.

Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are this is/these are has got/have got is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. One is different. The book is different.
A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are fruit. You eat them. You don't eat a book. You read it.

Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

The first/second/third/fourth
picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are
this is/these are
has got/have got
is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. One is different. The book is different.
A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are fruit. You eat them. You don't eat a book. You read it.

Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

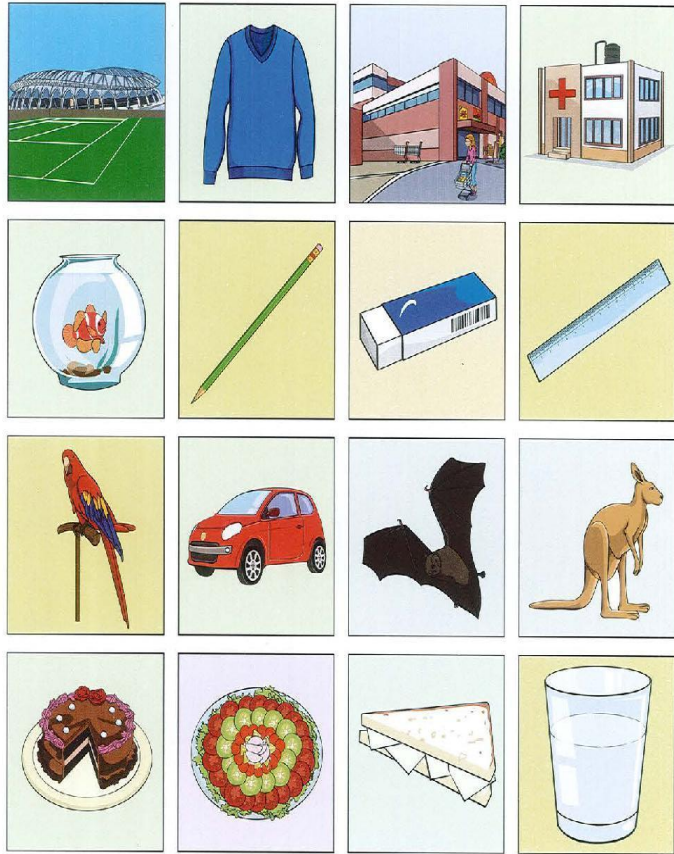

The first/second/third/fourth
picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are
this is/these are
has got/have got
is wearing/are wearing

Now look at these four pictures. One is different. The book is different.
A lemon, an orange and a pineapple are fruit. You eat them. You don't eat a book. You read it.

Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

ODD ONE OUT

Test 3 Speaking

The first/second/third/fourth picture is different because there is/are, this is/these are
this is/these are
has got/have got
is wearing/are wearing