Dictation

Oxford
Phonics
World 1
The Alphabet

Dictation Time!

A large rounded rectangular box with a grey border, designed for handwriting practice. The box is divided into three horizontal sections by three lines: a solid blue line at the top, a dashed grey line in the middle, and a solid red line at the bottom. The top section is the largest, followed by the middle section, and the bottom section is the smallest.

Dictation Time!

A blank sheet of lined paper with rounded corners and a grey border. The paper is divided into three horizontal sections by three lines: a solid blue line at the top, a dashed grey line in the middle, and a solid red line at the bottom. The central section between the dashed line and the red line is the largest and is intended for writing.

Dictation Time!

A blank sheet of lined paper with a blue top line, a dashed middle line, and a red bottom line, all within a rounded rectangular border.

Dictation Time!

A large, rounded rectangular box with a grey border, designed for writing. It features three horizontal lines: a solid blue line at the top, a dashed grey line in the middle, and a solid red line at the bottom. The space between the blue and red lines is divided into two sections by the dashed line, providing a guide for letter height and placement.

Dictation Time!

A blank page for dictation, featuring a rounded rectangular border. The page is divided into three horizontal sections by lines: a solid blue line at the top, a dashed grey line in the middle, and a solid red line at the bottom. The area between the blue and red lines is the primary writing space, with the dashed line serving as a guide for letter height.

Dictation Time!

A large, rounded rectangular box with a grey border, designed for dictation. The box is divided into three horizontal sections by a solid blue line at the top, a dashed grey line in the middle, and a solid red line at the bottom. The top section is for writing the dictation, the middle section is for writing the words, and the bottom section is for writing the numbers.
