

Orange Festival in Columbia

PPS SHOW
BY MARIUS VAN REENEN

A massive outdoor sculpture constructed from thousands of citrus fruits, likely lemons and oranges. The main feature is a two-story house with a steep, multi-tiered roof. The upper roof is covered in yellow lemons, while the lower sections and gables are made of orange segments. The house has several arched windows with yellow frames and black crosses. In front of the main house is a smaller, single-story structure with a rounded roof. A winding path made of fruit leads towards the entrance. A white dove stands on the roof of the main house. The entire artwork is set against a backdrop of bare trees and a clear sky.
