The ruins of the ancient city of Larumna nearby, the fortress wall is on the hill. In the recent past it is a small settlement of fishermen and builders of wooden yacht-gulets. Bozburuw Bay is one of the most famous construction yards in Turkey. Until 2000, Bozburun was accessible by sea.

Fragments of the ancient city of Larumna (on the hill remains of the fortress wall) are of interest to fans of history. Day 5 | Wednesday, 05th of October

About such a resort as Datcha know not all tourists, but those who have visited here once, often return here again. In addition, Datcha is also a peninsula, which is the border between the Mediterranean Sea in the south and the Bay of Gekow and the Aegean Sea in the north.

The highlight of the city are the ancient quarters located in the Old City. In this place you can see houses built in the traditional Ottoman style, as well as beautiful mosques. The most beautiful mosque in the region is considered Hızırşah Camii, which is located in the village of the same name seven kilometers from the resort (you can get there yourself or with a tour).

The shores of Datca are considered the most beautiful in Turkey and not without reason this place is often called the Turkish Riviera. This resort town even in terms of the number of yachts here can compete with the coast France.

Day 6 | Thursday, 06th of October

Knidos was once a thriving cultural, scientific and commercial center of ancient Greece. This was facilitated by the strategic location at the border of the Mediterranean and the Aegean Seas. In fact, it's an archaeological park with the remains of the walls, the debris of marble, in some pieces of which you can recognize fragments of temples - columns, altar. Walking slowly between the majestic ruins of a once-richest city, it is impossible not to succumb to thoughts of the true value of life.

The main attraction of Knidos is the remains of the temple of the patron saint of the city of Aphrodite, which used to contain a statue of the goddess of beauty and love - the work of Praxitel, one of the key monuments of the Antiquity. The sculpture has not survived, and its best copy is exhibited in the Louvre. Next to the ruins of the sanctuary is a colonnade-decorated alley shaped like a heart
