

How We Celebrate Christmas

Many people decorate their houses with lights.

"unknown" by [Marc Flores - Flickr] is licensed under CC BY 2.0

People put Christmas trees up near their windows.

"unknown" by [Ed Kennedy and Steam Pipe Tunk Distrubutions- Flickr] is licensed under CC BY 2.0

People go Christmas shopping for presents.

"unknown" by [Wenjie, Zang- Flickr] is licensed under CC BY 2.0

Christmas cards are exchanged and put up in our homes.

"unknown" by [Chez Mummy- Flickr] is licensed under CC BY 2.0

At Christmas turkey is eaten, often with friends and family.

"unknown" by [WordRidden - Flickr] is licensed under CC BY 2.0

Children look forward to Santa's visit on Christmas Eve.

"unknown" by [Johnny Silvercloud - Flickr] is licensed under CC BY 2.0

Presents are opened on Christmas morning.

"unknown" by [Rain0795 - Flickr] is licensed under CC BY 2.0

Many Christians go to church to celebrate Jesus' birth.

"unknown" by [Bengt Nyman - Flickr] is licensed under CC BY 2.0

Schools act out the nativity story to remind us why Christmas is celebrated.

"Nativity Play" by [Peter C - Flickr] is licensed under CC BY 2.0

twinkl