If you find yourself in Krasnoyarsk, then you should definitely visit these sights:

1. Reserve "Stolby"
2. Krasnoyarsk Regional Museum
3. Art Museum named after V.I. Surikov
4. Chapel of Paraskeva Pyatnitsa
5. Fan Park "Beaver Log"
6. Monument "White Horse"

Krasnoyarsk Regional Museum

This is the largest museum complex in Russia, which depicts scenes from the life of the most ancient settlements of the region, stuffed rare animals, models of buildings. Antique clothes and things. And there are also four branches: the literary museum, the memorial complex of V.P. Astafyev, the Museum-estate of G. V. Yudin and the museum of the steamer "Saint Nicholas".

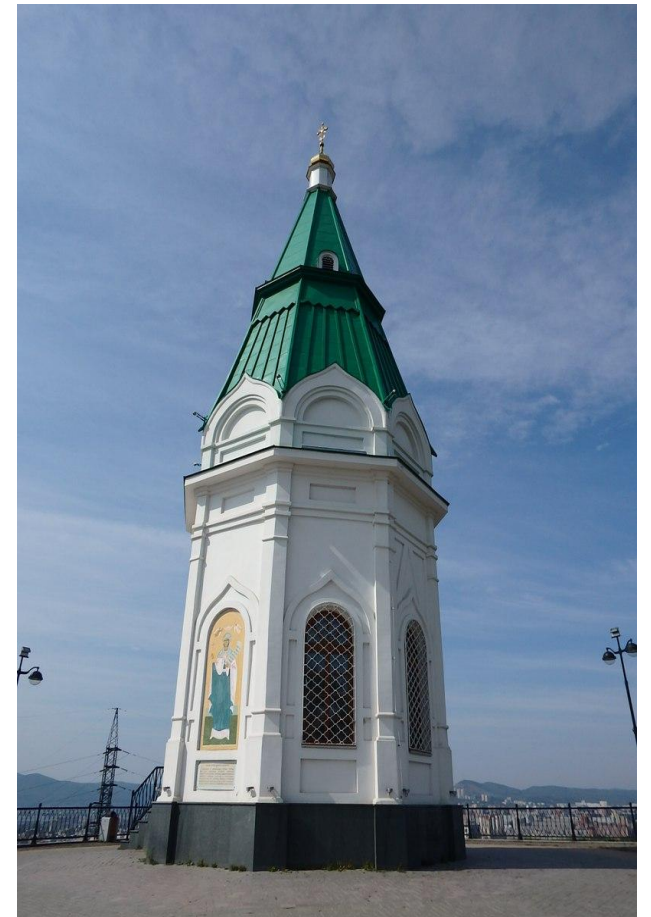

Art Museum named after V.I. Surikov

It is worth visiting it in order to have a more complete picture of the paintings of the artists of the Krasnoyarsk Territory. The museum presents paintings by Vasily Surikov, Kandinsky, Malevich, Shterenberg, Popov, Rozanov, Rodchenko. Toward the end of the museum, Aivazovsky's stunning paintings begin.

Chapel of Paraskeva Pyatnitsa

The chapel is located on the top of the guard mountain, earlier in its place there was a wooden watchtower, on which the Yenisei Cossacks guarded, warning the inhabitants of Krasnoyarsk about the approach of the enemy. From the observation deck of the chapel, a view of the центральную часть города.

Fan-Park "Beaver Log"

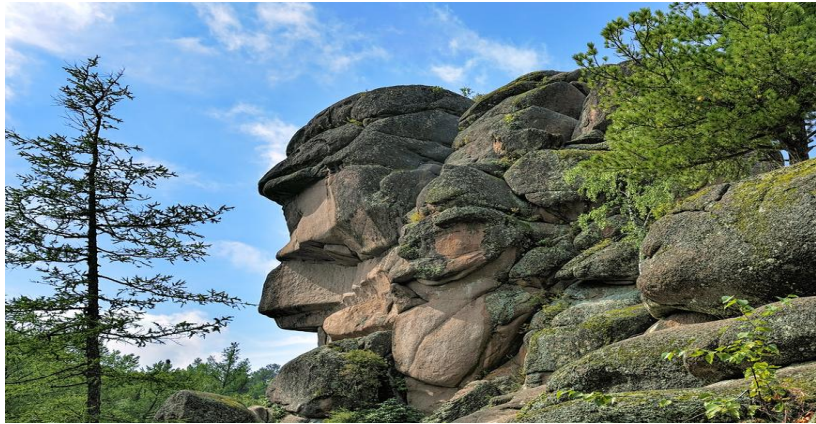

This is a place for family, extreme recreation and entertainment at any time of the year: a ski resort in winter and a recreation and entertainment park in summer and in the off-season. The Fun Park is located within the city, on the right bank of the Yenisei, in the spurs of the Eastern Sayan Mountains, in the valley of the mountain river Bazaikha. By chairlift you can go up to the observation deck overlooking the endless taiga of the Stolby National Park.

Reserve pillars

This reserve is worth a visit to look at the unusually shaped rocks, enjoy the wonderful views of nature, and try to climb the rocks.

For vacationers, visiting the "Pillars" will forever remain in memory.

Monument "White Horse"

It is an exact copy of the representative of the Central Russian breed. It is believed that the first Cossacks landed on the site of the monument several centuries ago. So, the governor on horseback got ashore, and after that he threw his whip and saber and declared that the city would be built here.
