

The anthem of my generation

• anthem of generation

- With the change of each new generation, the interests and preferences of people change. what is the anthem of the generation? I believe that this is a song that describes the inner world and the state of the current generation. Each generation has its own unique song, it can be very difficult to pick it up, people's opinions differ about the generation's anthem

• The individuality of people

- It is almost impossible to find such a song that reflects an entire generation of people, because all people have individuality and differ from each other.
- Each person lives his life differently.
- therefore in order to find such a song that can be called the anthem of a generation, it is necessary that it contains what unites an entire generation of people

CONCLUSION

- In conclusion , I want to write that it is extremely difficult to choose a song , that will represent an entire generation, or singer. You can say it's almost impossible, because you can never know about the interests of people on the other side of the world, even just to understand what others have in mind.
Everyone is completely different.

The slide features a light gray background with decorative elements in the corners. The top-left corner contains a large light pink circle, a small yellow circle, a small pink circle, a small blue circle, and a small dark pink circle. The top-right corner contains a large pink circle, a small yellow circle, and a medium pink circle. The bottom-right corner contains a small orange circle, a small blue circle, a medium light pink circle, and a large orange circle. The text "thank you for your attention" is centered in a bold, dark purple font.

thank you for your attention