

Biblioteca Nacional de Espana

Derevtsova Evgeniia

9 A

National library of Spain is an Autonomous body of the country, storing bibliographic and documentary heritage of Spain. It was created to collect, catalogue, and preserve library collections in the country.

National library of Spain is in the mansion, in which in addition to it is the national archaeological Museum in the country, which in 2011 launched a massive renovation, and scheduled to open in 2013

In 1876, the National library, there were 300,000 books, 200,000 brochures, more than 300,000 manuscripts.

Museum, the National library can meet the needs of any activity. Conferences, puppet shows, lectures and seminars, weekend film screenings and concerts. Besides here you can see the audio-visual project of the National library of Spain, dedicated to the millennial history books.

