Human Rights 'the foundation of freedom, justice, and peace in the world'.

By the end of the lesson I should; Know some of the statements on the Bill of Human Rights

Think about why the Human Rights

Bill is necessary.

In 1945, after the horrors of World War II, an international organization was established, the United Nations. It was dedicated to maintaining peace and security and to solving humanitarian problems.

So in 1948, they developed a code of conduct for the protection of basic human rights to be used across the world. This was called the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

It is not legally binding, but its content has been incorporated into the laws of many countries and it has become a standard measure of human rights across the world.

However, there are still many countries and people who abuse these rights for example;-

The Guantanamo
Bay Detention
Camp

The Articles of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights were set up to protect people. In the UK they are included as part of our laws. Not all countries do this!!!

Shade the articles of the Human Rights bill using 3 different colours to show what they represent UNDER THE FOLLOWING HEADINGS. (some might come under more than one so the box can be stripy!)

Using the information given;

Design a leaflet to illustrate the most important articles of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

You will need to explain:

- What the Universal Declaration of Human Rights actually is
- Why it is important
- Why it was set up
- •What the articles are.

Use pictures to help explain your ideas.
