Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs

Once upon a time there was a King and a Queen. They had a very beautiful daughter. Her name was Snow White because her skin was as white as the snow, cheeks as red as blood and her hair as black as a marble pillar. They lived very happily in their beautiful castle.

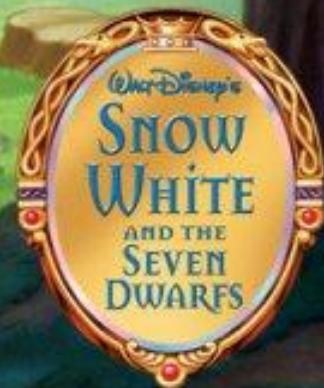

Snow White

But one day the Queen fell ill and soon she died. It was awfull.

After some time the King took another wife,
very beautiful woman who was very angry and cunning. She was very jealous of Snow White
because Snow White
was more beautiful
than her stepmother.
That's why the New Queen ordered to take Snow White into the forest, far away from the Castle and leave💡 her there to die.

Snow White was very happy with the Seven Dwarfs. They took care of each other.

The Seven
Dwarfs helped Snow White to meet a wonderful Prince. The
Prince and Snow
White married
and lived happily ever since in a great castle.
