

THE UNIVERSITY of LIVERPOOL

- City: Liverpool
Year established: 1881
Number of students: 23,000
Title: State

- Liverpool University
- one of the largest and most rapidly developing UK higher education institutions

- For the university is characterized by innovative training programs and work closely with industry.

- In addition to traditional majors University provides training in those rare areas of forensic science, technology, computer games, new production processes in the media, broadcasting equipment, and training in the UK clearly focused on the needs of employers.

- Thanks to the close relationship of training courses with the requirements of industry, over 90% of graduates find employment within six months after graduation.

