A long-exposure photograph of the Tower Bridge in London at night. The bridge's stone structure is illuminated with warm yellow lights, while its roof is lit with a vibrant green. The two massive suspension towers are visible, with their intricate Gothic-style architecture highlighted. The bridge deck is filled with traffic, which appears as long, horizontal streaks of red and white light, indicating the movement of cars over time. The sky above is a deep, dark purple, providing a stark contrast to the illuminated bridge. The overall composition is symmetrical, with the bridge's arches framing the central view.
