An aerial photograph of a large stone castle with multiple towers and a central courtyard, surrounded by lush green fields and a winding river. The scene is captured from a high angle, showing the castle's layout and the surrounding landscape.

What have I done for you, England, my England?
What is there I would not do,
England, my own?
With your glorious eyes austere,
As the Lord were walking near,
Whispering terrible things and dear
As the Song on your bugles blown, England—
Round the world on your bugles blown!

My Heart in the Highlands

My heart's in the Highlands
Farewell to the north
Chasing the wild deer
The birthplace of valour
wherever I go wherever I rove
The hills of the Highlands Farewell to the Highlands,
farewell to the North,
The birth-place of Valour,
the country of Worth ; Wherever I wander, wherever I
rove,
The hills of the Highlands for ever I love.
