Winnie-the-Pooh

In White River City in Canada you can see this colorful statue of Winnie-the-Pooh. The famous bear is sitting in a tree with his pot of honey.

Alice

In New York, USA there is a large sculpture that depicts Alice, from Lewis Carroll's classic Alice's Adventures in Wonderland. Alice is sitting on a giant mushroom and there are many other characters from the book around her: the White Rabbit, the Cheshire cat and Mad Hatter.

Mary Poppins

The statue of Mary Poppins stands in Maryborough, Australia. Mary Poppins is a magical nanny who can do a lot of stings: she can talk to the animals, travel in time and she can fly by umbrella

Sherlock Holmes

The first full-size statue of Sherlock Holmes was in Switzerland in 1988, by British sculptor John Doubleday – who also did the Charlie Chaplin, in Leicester Square.

Doubleday was then commissioned for this tribute to the famous detective in London, unveiled in 1999.

Peter Pan

Writer JM Barrie paid George Frampton to sculpt this work which appeared overnight in 1919. Questions were asked as to why an author had been allowed to erect a tribute to his own creation in a public park but it was so instantly popular it was allowed to remain. There are seven copies around the world.

The Crocodile Gena

The Cheburashka, Crocodile Gena and Shapoklyak sculpture was installed in 2005 in Ramenskoye.

The postman Pechkin sculpture is in Luhovitsy. His friends are Matroskin, Sharik and Galchonok.

The Gold Fish

The Goldfish sculpture is in Kemerovo.
